INDY RACER DISINTEGRATES AFTER HITTING WALL

FREAK MISHAP KILLS PIT CREW MEMBER

SAVAGE STRUGGLES FROM WRECKAGE
(UPI TELEPHOTO)

A Death-Dealing Indy Finally Is Completed

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Gordon Johncock shrugged off the nerve-racking effects of driving through two accidents which killed a crewman and put two fellow drivers in the hospital to win the weather-jinxed Memorial Day 500-mile auto race at a speed he thought was too fast.

Johncock, 36, a slim wiry resident of Franklin, Ind., led for 64 laps of the 133 in the race, called after 332.5 miles, and triumphed at an average speed of 159.014 miles per hour. The race was scheduled for 200 laps.

"I would really like to see them show these cars down," he said, subdued after his win. "By slowing down the cars, you would see a much better race." The race began after a delay of more than five hours and former winner Bobby Unser, who led the first 39 laps, set a record pace for the first few minutes. Then a backstretch spin by Bob Harkey threw debris on the track, knocked the speed below the record and none of the other leaders could get the pace up again to a record average speed.

Armando Moreno Teran, 22, Santa Monica, Calif., a crewman for Graham McRae, became the second fatality of this 57th annual race when he was struck by a fire truck speeding in the pits to aid injured driver Swede Savage.

Savage's car hit the outside wall, then the inside wall at the head of the home stretch, exploding into flames, and he suffered broken legs and burns. He was taken to Methodist Hospital by helicopter, listed in critical but stable condition.

Savage was the second driver hospitalized as the result of the race. David "Salt" Walther was burned seriously Monday when his car hit the wall and caught fire in the 10-car accident which stopped the race. Johncock drove unscathed through both mishaps.

Teran, thrown more than 50 feet when he was hit near the starting line in view of thousands of fans in the paddock stands, died in the hospital from a fractured skull, arm, shoulder, hip and pelvis, and internal injuries.

Earlier, veteran driver Art Pollard was killed when his car hit the wall and skidded upside down into the infield on May 12 while practicing for qualifications.

The race was stopped for an hour and 15 minutes after the Savage crash.

Only four drivers led the abbreviated race — Bobby Unser, Johncock, Al Unser, Savage and then Johncock from the 73rd lap until the finish.

Johncock won $9,600 in lap prizes, Bobby Unser $5,850, Al Unser $2,700 and Savage $1,800.

Johncock's pay check for the Patrick Racing Team of Indianapolis should be about $250,000 of the total purse of more than $1 million. His victory was the sixth in the "500" race for his chief mechanic George Bignotti, who won twice each with A. J. Foyt and Al Unser as well as once with Graham Hill.

It was the third time the race has been stopped by rain and declared official, the last time at 345 miles with Johnnie Parsons the victor in 1950.

The race was postponed both Monday and Tuesday by rain, the first time ever on two consecutive days.

Bill Vukovich, Fresno, Calif., whose father won the "500" in 1953 and 1954, finished second about a half minute behind Johncock. Roger McCluskey, Tucson, Ariz., was third; Mel Kenyon, Lebanon, Ind., fourth, and Gary Bettenhausen, Tinley Park, Ill., fifth.

Johncock, driving a new Eagle-Offy racer, was one of the pre-race favorites. Five others, former champions Al and Bobby Unser, Foyt, Mario Andretti and 1972 winner Mark Donohue, failed to finish. Only 11 cars were running when the race ended.

Pompidou Fears U. S. Troop Reduction

ON SHAKY GROUND—President Richard Nixon appears to lose his balance as he turns to shake hands with Icelandic President Kristjan Eldjarn.
(UPI TELEPHOTO)

REYKJAVIK (UPI) — President Nixon and French President Georges Pompidou began a two-day summit session today with talks covering a wide range of world affairs, but particularly France's concern that the United States might reduce its forces in Europe unilaterally.

Pompidou himself said the discussions were "going fine," and a French spokesman said they were "useful and constructive."

The talks were held in the Kjarvalsstaðir art museum on a typically chilly day in Iceland's principal city, the northernmost capital in the world.

The first session lasted two hours, 42 minutes — 42 minutes longer than scheduled. A French official spokesman, Denis Baudouin, told newsmen that Pompidou called on Nixon not to withdraw American troops from Europe, reflecting French apprehension that an agreement on reduction of forces might be reached between Nixon and Soviet Communist party leader Leonid I. Brezhnev when they meet in Washington in mid-June.

"President Pompidou insisted on the extreme importance of the presence of U.S. troops in Europe and the great danger of reducing the U.S. forces unilaterally," Baudouin said.

France is opposed to the Mutual Balanced Forces Reduction (MBFR) talks between East and West. The French, who eased U.S. forces out of France in 1967 and pulled out of U.S.-dominated integrated NATO commands, now are stepping up pressure on Washington to maintain strong forces east of the Rhine River.

Baudouin said the two Presidents had a sweeping discussion of world affairs and relations among Western allies. "President Pompidou considers he had a useful and constructive conversation on the state of the Atlantic alliance," he said.

Top aides from both sides met separately but Presidential advisor Henry Kissinger sat in with the two Presidents.

In parallel talks, French Finance Minister Valéry Giscard d'Estaing and U.S. Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz discussed the two nations' efforts to "re-establish a stable world monetary system," according to Baudouin.

At the same time, Secretary of State William P. Rogers and French Foreign Minister Michel Jobert talked about methods of aligning their policies on the Middle East, Vietnam and Cambodia, as well as next month's NATO Ministerial meeting in Copenhagen.

In their public appearances together, Nixon and Pompidou appeared relaxed and chatted amiably through interpreters, making an obvious effort to discount rumors they could not agree on an agenda.

French sources said Pompidou told aides on the eve of the summit "there may be differences in our viewpoint, but no discord."

After the first meeting, as the two stood together briefly, Nixon chatted about the weather and Pompidou seemed amused at the scores of newsmen and photographers swarming about.

Nixon joked that Pompidou was able to sleep longer because of the time differences of their respective capitals with Iceland, Iceland is four hours ahead of Washington but one hour behind Paris.

Nixon arrived first and waited for a few moments in the brisk outdoors for Pompidou. The American, French and Icelandic flags—all red, white and blue—flew side by side.

When Pompidou pulled up in a black Citroen, Nixon darted forward to greet him warmly. The French president, bundled in a heavy overcoat and a wool scarf around his neck, threw up his hands in greeting.

The presidents shook hands and smiled and waved.

Before the first of today's two hour meetings, Nixon had met for one-hour session with his chief foreign policy adviser, Henry A. Kissinger. Kissinger also consulted for an hour last night with French foreign minister Michel Jobert.

Kissinger arrived at the meeting site after the presidents. Nixon stressed the role of subordinates in the summit discussions.

At one point before the talks began, he pointed to aides and told Pompidou, "These are the men who will do all the work. We will just sit down and talk."

Ehrlichman Details Nixon Concern

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Former White House aide John D. Ehrlichman says President Nixon—within days of the Watergate arrests—was "especially concerned" that the FBI's investigation might reach into Mexico and uncover secret operations.

Ehrlichman's allegation before a Senate subcommittee Wednesday was the first indication by someone close to the President that Nixon was aware of a Mexican connection with Watergate sometime before federal investigators uncovered it.

It was reported last August by federal authorities that the Watergate bugging had been financed by Nixon campaign funds "laundered" through a Mexico City bank to hide the identity of the donors.

In a 20-page statement prepared for a Senate appropriations subcommittee looking into reported CIA involvement in covert White House activities, Ehrlichman said Nixon directed him and the White House chief of staff, H. R. Haldeman, to meet with CIA officials following the Watergate arrests last June 17.

"Mr. Haldeman said that the President was concerned about the effect of the FBI investigation upon the (Central Intelligence) agency," Ehrlichman said. "The President intended to require a full, vigorous FBI investigation with no strings but believed that the trail might lead to agency people or activities either in this country or abroad."

"The President was especially concerned about agency activities in Mexico which might be disclosed," Ehrlichman said.

Ehrlichman did not say what types of activities Nixon was concerned about. Nor did he say why Nixon was worried specifically about Mexico or why he feared the Watergate trail might lead there.

Ehrlichman was Nixon's chief domestic affairs advisor until that no past operations would be jeopardized, so far as they could tell then.

But, Ehrlichman said, Walters did not rule out the possibility of CIA concern about Mexican operations, and "I got the impression that Mr. Haldeman's shot had hit some target."

He did not explain his reference to "money sources" of the burglars or why this was raised in connection with Mexico at that meeting.

Earlier this month, however, the Senate Armed Services Committee heard testimony from Walters and Helms about the June 23 meeting, in which they said Haldeman was worried about "the investigation of funds in Mexico connected with the Watergate case" and sought to have them block the FBI probe.

Despite CIA assurances that the FBI Watergate probe would not affect its operations, past CIA operations, including Ehrlichman said Nixon told him in the first week of July he was afraid it would.

"The President told me then that he still personally believed and feared that the FBI investigation might harm the agency," Ehrlichman said. The CIA assurances had been given in the June 23 meeting.

Ehrlichman said Nixon told him they were also passed directly to him by L. Patrick Gray, then heading the FBI.

"He (the President) said he believed the CIA would be making a mistake if it pretended an investigation would not disclose some of its current operations," Ehrlichman continued. "He said he hoped the general (Walters) and other CIA management were not covering up for their subordinates."

"The President said substantially: A man makes a grave mistake in covering up for subordinates."

Loan-Sharking Charges Lodged

NEW YORK (UPI) — Anthony "Fat Tony" Salerno was indicted Wednesday on charges of running a loan-sharking operation that gave it an entry into legitimate businesses and had $80 million in debts outstanding on any given day. Manhattan District Attorney Frank Hogan said in announcing the grand jury indictment that one person, whom he did not name, had borrowed $750,000 from the operation. It charged interest rates of 3 per cent a week, or 156 per cent a year, Hogan said.

In one case, Hogan said, Salerno told co-conspirator Joseph Monetti to break the leg of a person who had not paid his debt. Hogan did not say whether the order was carried out.

The operation allegedly had its headquarters in the Dunhill barber shop in Manhattan. In addition to a Manhattan apartment, Salerno has a penthouse apartment in Miami and a 100-acre estate in Rhinebeck, N.Y., Hogan said.

Salerno, 62, regarded as one of the most powerful mobsters on the East Coast, was charged on 13 counts of loansharking and conspiracy. Hogan said the operation was one of the biggest in the nation.

If convicted on all the charges, Salerno could be sentenced to a maximum of 46 years in jail.

It was the 16th indictment in the investigation, which began last fall when an abandoned car was found with loan sharking records on its back seat.

Salerno was declared an incorrigible truant in 1914 and sent to truant school. He has been arrested 27 times and served a three-to-seven year term in prison. He was tried twice on homicide charges but acquitted both times.

In the 1950s and 1960s, Salerno was associated with a numbers racket in East Harlem.

Homowack Lodge Employee Killed on Old Route 209

SPRING GLEN — A 52-year-old employee of the Homowack Lodge was killed late Wednesday night when the vehicle he was driving left Old Route 209 in Sullivan County near the Homowack and struck a guide rail retaining post.

Arthur T. Matheny, 52, was pronounced dead at the scene, State Police said. Matheny was an unlicensed driver. He was from Cuyahoga Falls, Ohio, police said.

Meanwhile, a six-year-old Haines Falls boy was killed Wednesday afternoon when he rode his bicycle into the path of an auto on Route 23A in this Greene County community.

Leeds State Police said Keith Byrne, 17, of Haines Falls, was traveling west on Route 23A when Jean Ravetier reportedly rode from a driveway onto the highway. Police said Byrne swerved and applied his brakes, but skidded into the boy. The child was pronounced dead at Greene County Memorial Hospital less than an hour after the mishap. An autopsy was to be performed today.

Elsewhere, a 53-year-old Rosendale man was charged

Wednesday with leaving the scene of an accident and failure to keep right in connection with an alleged hit-and-run accident earlier involving a village fire hydrant. Village police said Richard Whalen of Davis Street, Rosendale, was traced through a broken parking light found at the scene of the mishap.

The accident resulted in an interruption of water service in the village for approximately 19 hours, and officials estimated it will cost $3,000 to correct the damage.

In Rhinebeck, State Police arrested John Potts, 25, of Rhinebeck on charges of leaving the scene of an accident and following too close in connection with a May 25 accident involving a Dutchess County Sheriff's Department vehicle.

Arraigned before Rhinebeck Village Justice Herman Tietjen, the man was fined $90 and released.

Meanwhile, Lawrence Johnson, 23, of New York City, died Sunday at Albany Medical Center Hospital of injuries incurred in a one-car mishap on Samsonville Road in the Town of Rochester. Ellenville State Police are investigating the mishap, which occurred Saturday. The fatality is Ulster County's tenth since January 1, 1973.

Bomb Explosion Claims Life

NEW YORK (UPI) — A pipe bomb exploded last night in the Lower East Side tenement flat of a 74-year-old widow, killing her and critically injuring the 69-year-old man who was her close friend and neighbor.

The explosion shortly before midnight in the third-floor apartment of Mrs. Edith Tenner, of 504 E. 12 St., blew out windows and shattered furniture in the kitchen of the modest, three-room flat, police said.

Mrs. Tenner was declared dead on arrival at Bellevue hospital. Her friend, 69-year-old Frank Asensio, who lived a few doors away at 526 E. 12th St. and would often visit so they could watch television together, was listed in critical condition also at Bellevue, police said.

Detectives and fire marshalls spent the night trying to find out what happened but with Asensio unable to talk, they were unable to add much to what a police spokesman said.

Bomb Squad has found some fragments and it looks like a pipe bomb. But how it got there, or why, or for what reason—right now we just don't know.

A Fire Department spokesman said the badly injured Asensio muttered to firefighters at the scene "something about trying to plug in the television and then everything went up" and this led to some speculation that the blast may have been caused by the implosion of the color television tube.

But police Bomb Squad experts after investigating said they had found fragments of what they believed to be a "pipe bomb" in the apartment.

Describing the scene, a fire official said "there were parts of the television strewn all over the kitchen. The windows were blown out and the man and the woman were in very bad shape."

He said "the explosion had to be caused by more than just a TV tube. The damage was just too much."

Senate Prepared to Vote On Anti Bombing Bill

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate prepared to vote today on cutting off the money for U.S. bombing of Cambodia.

Pentagon sources, meanwhile, disclosed that the number of B52 bombing runs over Cambodia has been reduced in recent days by about one-third from the daily average of 60.

The sources cited costs and problems of crew morale.

The Senate appeared certain to adopt an amendment to a $3.6-billion supplemental appropriation bill to deny any funds for U.S. hostilities in Cambodia and Laos.

The amendment, sponsored by Sen. Thomas F. Eagleton, D-Mo., had the unanimous support of the Senate Appropriations Committee. It survived a test Tuesday when the Senate, by a 55-21 vote, declared the amendment germane to the bill.

About 200 big B52 bombers based in Guam and Thailand have been bombing Cambodia for almost three months. One flight by one plane from Guam costs an estimated $31,000; in Cambodia, from Thailand, about $18,000.

The Defense Department had conceded that some belt-tightening would be required unless Congress granted authority to transfer other Pentagon monies to finance the bombing. Congress has given no indication of granting that approval.

The House, which has more rigid rules than the Senate, against including legislation in an appropriation bill, voted 219-188 May 10 to prohibit use of any money in the supplemental appropriation bill for bombing Elliot L. Richardson, then secretary of defense, said the restriction, if applied to the one bill alone, would not stop the bombing.

The administration claims its authority for the bombing of Cambodia stems from the Vietnam war and efforts to enforce the Jan. 27 cease-fire agreement against violations.

The White House conceded Wednesday that Congress can halt a war by cutting off funds, but said it is "extremely doubtful" there is any other way.

Offensive Against Hue Feared

SAIGON (AP) — The first in recent weeks, American Communist tank attack since the cease-fire began four months ago raised fears among South Vietnamese government officials today that a new offensive against Hue is in the offing.

A government communiqué said a tank force attacked an infantry position Wednesday 18 miles southwest of the former imperial capital on the northern coast. The government said the attack was beaten back with one tank destroyed, 15 enemy soldiers killed and one government soldier wounded.

The communiqué also reported Communist gunners fired 115 rounds of artillery and mortar fire at three other positions west of Hue but there were no government casualties.

Military sources said the Saigon command was trying to determine the strength of the tank force to assess whether the attack might herald a new offensive against Hue.

The attacked post is part of a defensive area running through rugged mountains west and southwest of the city. According to field reports, the whole network has come under continuous and increasing North Vietnamese and Viet Cong pressure.

sources report at least one government position has been given up, but the Saigon command has not announced this.

Meanwhile, the Viet Cong charged the United States with a new air attack on Communist territory inside South Vietnam.

It claimed three flights of U.S. F4 Phantoms and a C130 bombed and strafed around Xom Mat, 75 miles north of Saigon, on May 29. The area is close to the Cambodian border, and the United States with air attacks there before. But the United States denied the latest charge as it has the previous ones.

Meanwhile, the head of the Canadian delegation to the International Commission of Control and Supervision, Michel Gauvin, said he would take over the commission's rotating chairmanship for June as scheduled but would call no meetings unless a deadlock over reports of North Vietnamese infiltration is resolved.

This would bring the commission to a standstill since no reports of investigations of truce violations could be completed. However, the commission's field teams could still carry out investigations requested by the Viet Cong or South Vietnamese locally.

The Canadian government announced its decision this week to quit the peacekeeping commission by July 31, or earlier if a replacement is found.

Sabotage Trial Ordered

SAN FRANCISCO (UPI) — For the first time since World War II, an American serviceman is being court-martialed for "sabotage in time of war."

A Navy judge ordered Fireman Patrick D. Chenoweth, 21, Puyallup, Wash., to stand trial beginning today on charges of dropping a paint scraper and two 12-inch bolts into the reduction gears of the carrier USS Ranger's No. 4 engine last summer.

The bolts snapped off the teeth of the huge gears, causing $800,000 damage that took three and one-half months to repair and prevented the Ranger's scheduled return to Vietnam waters.

During pretrial proceedings, a Navy judge ruled that for the purposes of military justice the Vietnam conflict was "a defacto war" and that Chenoweth could be charged with sabotage in time of war. He was the first serviceman charged under that section of the Military Code since World War II and faces up to 30 years in prison if convicted.

The Navy said the incident occurred between the end of June and about July 10 last year while the Ranger was tied up at Alameda Naval Air Station on the east side of San Francisco Bay. Chenoweth, who had been in the service two years, was arrested Aug. 2.

The prosecution said it had a witness who says Chenoweth confessed the crime to him, and two other witnesses who say they overheard him make similar statements. Chenoweth, who pleaded innocent, said the remarks were made as a joke.

Paltz Claim Causing Controversy

By WADE BURKHART

NEW PALTZ
The Village of New Paltz will not pay a $250,000 claim against it for slander made by Town of New Paltz Police Director John F. Taylor, according to a village trustee.

Village Trustee John Logan, head of the village board's police committee, said to the Freeman Wednesday, "I'll absolutely assure you the village board is not going to pay this claim."

The claim, delivered last week to the village board, says the members of the village board, Mayor Henry W. DuBois, John Sherwig, O. Lincoln Igou, and Logan, harmed Taylor's "good name and reputation" by the passing of a resolution condemning Taylor's activities in the March village elections.

Taylor sent a letter to local newspapers during the campaign which said that Igou had been misinformed about town and village police operations, and that Logan was guilty of a "gross lie" and had been less than honorable.

Village board members saw this letter as an attempt to influence the election. Logan and Taylor have had a number of well-publicized differences. It (the board) unanimously passed a resolution March 26 "condemning the entrance of a police officer into partisan political affairs." The resolution said Taylor had "improperly and illegally used the influence of his office." Logan said more than just Taylor's letter was involved, but declined to be more specific.

Taylor, in his $250,000 claim, charged that the village board and Logan, harmed Taylor's "good name and reputation" by the passing of a resolution condemning Taylor's activities in the March village elections.

Taylor sent a letter to local newspapers during the campaign which said that Igou had been

The village resolution condemning Taylor also called for the New Paltz Town Board to take action against Taylor, and resolved that the matter should be taken to the Ulster County District Attorney "for appropriate action."

Logan said Taylor's claim was "ludicrous." The trustee said he had sent a letter Tuesday to the office of Ulster County District Attorney Francis Vogt requesting an investigation.

Logan charged that the town police commissioners — Supervisor Theodore Lasher, and Councilmen David Jewett and Walter Dyer — had failed to take investigative action concerning Taylor despite Logan's repeated requests to do so.

Lasher said Wednesday that the commissioners had tried to get the State Attorney General's Office to investigate the matter, but had been told it should be handled on a local level. According to Lasher, the commissioners were going to see Vogt with the entire case and let him decide on the proper course of action.

Vogt said Wednesday he had

Saugerties School Board Welcomes Budget Changes

By CARL GRAHAM

SAUGERTIES
The Board of Education of the Saugerties Central School District will present a "rock-bottom" $6.3 million budget to district residents for approval on June 13 but will welcome any increases or cuts that voters might wish to put on the ballot by petition.

Robert Francello, board president, noted at Tuesday night's public hearing that all items submitted by petition would be put on the ballot as separate items. Petitions for changes must have 100 signatures and must be filed in the district office no later than June 7.

About 80 persons showed up for the public hearing and after an explanation of the budget by John O'Rourke, chairman of the budget committee, questions from the floor were answered by board members and administrators.

The budget represents an increase of 6.3 per cent over the current year's figure. O'Rourke said, and would raise the tax rate approximately $6.90 over this year's $136.70 per thousand of assessed valuation in the Town of Saugerties. Rates in the Town of Woodstock would go up about $4.35 (now $36.47) and in the Town of Ulster about $12.03 (now $168.29).

O'Rourke gave several examples of ways in which the board had cut the budget to the minimal figures. He said that the administration's request for 19 new teaching positions had been cut to one new teacher, a psychologist, and that on the recommendation of Daniel Lee, high school principal, had decided to renovate two present study halls into four additional classrooms, including dividers and furniture to make the cafeteria over into two classrooms.

Francello said that the board had cut the number of students who will attend BOCES classes in Kingston next year, eliminating about $25,000 from the budget. Francello noted that the BOCES cost per pupil was an estimated $1,248 for the 1973-74 school year, "about $200 more than we are spending per child in this district."

One item in the budget calls for a study of the district's bus transportation system by LKB Associates, a consulting firm. Thomas Macarille, board vice president, who handled negotiations with LKB, said that the firm guaranteed the district that it would cut at least $50,000 in transportation costs from the 1974-75 budget.

Mrs. Alice Tipp, president of the We've Had It Taxpayers Association (WHITA) of Ulster County, asked why the proposed budget wasn't made available to voters for study prior to the meeting. Francello said the board had postponed the budget hearing from April to May so it could learn what state legislators would do about the present $860 per pupil state aid formula. O'Rourke added that legislators had given schools only a 2.5 per cent increase although they had voted themselves a 60 per cent increase.

Mrs. Gerry Spada, secretary of the Concerned Taxpayers of the Town of Saugerties, suggested that a budget item for teacher's aides could be eliminated if students in high school commercial courses were used in their place as they were when she attended school. Lee said he had discussed the possibility with the head of the commercial department, who felt that the students should be paid for any work they did in the schools.

O'Rourke said a citizen's complaint in a letter to the editor that the board had to board.

transfer funds from 19 different accounts to pay $7,500 for litigation during the current school year was "good news" to him.

"That meant that the budget was cut to the bone," he said. When voters go to the polls on June 13 they will choose three board members from a nine-man field, including all three incumbents. Macarille, O'Rourke, and Philip Meade all filed petitions to run for another five-year term before the filing deadline Tuesday afternoon and additional filing petitions were received from Ray Fuller, Route 2, Box 482, Saugerties; Joseph Ellis, 3 Blue Hills court, Saugerties; Edwin Olson, Barclay Apartments, Simmons Street, Saugerties; Perry Quillen, Malden-on-Hudson; the Joan Pawlus, 13 Willow Road, Saugerties; and Ralph Childers, RD 1, Box 399, Saugerties.

All nine candidates will compete in a free-for-all election with the three top vote-getters being elected to the board.

Trial of Insurance Man Scheduled for July 18

KINGSTON

The trial of insurance man F. William Sheehan, who is accused of grand larceny in the alleged swindling of his clients out of an estimated $100,000, will begin in Ulster County Court Monday, June 18 at 10 a.m.

In an appearance before Family Court Judge Hugh R. Elwyn Wednesday, Sheehan was released in $5,000 bail. He was previously held in Ulster County Jail in lieu of $10,000 bail.

Judge Elwyn will preside during the trial in which James Murray of Ellenville will serve as special prosecutor. Murray was named when Ulster County District Attorney Francis J. Vogt disqualified himself and his entire staff from prosecuting the case due to Vogt's close relationship to the defendant.

County Judge Raymond J. Mino and Surrogate Arthur W. Davis disqualified themselves for much the same reasons as Vogt.

The Mt. Tremper businessman "disappeared" Oct. 17, 1972 and was the subject of a nationwide police search.

Sheehan gave himself up to Hurley State Police in March after a five-month cross-country chase. The defendant operated the F. William Sheehan Insurance Agency about four years.

City Reapport Vote

Special Election Has Special Problems

KINGSTON (from the current 13 to 11 — City Clerk Louis F. DeCicco, plained DeCicco. "The Board of the cost of printing the ballots which will read: 'Shall Local Law No. 5 of 1973, corresponding with Local Law No. 127 of the City of Kingston, redistricting reapportioning and reducing the number of wards in the city of Kingston, N.Y. from (13) thirteen to (11) eleven, with one representative to the Common Council from each ward, be approved."

What is involved is the staffing of 26 polling places with what is called these days "election inspectors," decedents of the poll watcher and poll worker. There are four to each polling place, two from the Republican Party, two from the Democratic Party. Election inspectors are paid at the rate of $2.25 an hour "and they earn their pay," contends DeCicco. Since the polls will be open for 13 hours, from 6 a.m. on the 19th to 9 p.m., the cost to the city will be $3,510.

The city also has to come up with two "machine custodians" to service the voting machines. Again, one is a Republican, one a Democrat. DeCicco says the "regular rate" for machine custodians is $425 each for the day. "Since we expect a light turnout, we don't expect to be paying them that much," DeCicco said.

Ballots have to be printed, although DeCicco says he has a legal ruling, ruling out absentee and military ballots. City voters have the option of changing that on June 19.

Court Reserves Decision On MTA's Stewart Project

NEW YORK (AP) — The U.S. Court of Appeals has reserved decision in the latest wrangling session over the Metropolitan Transportation Association's plans to convert Stewart Airport near Newburgh, N.Y., into a major jetport. The MTA is seeking to overturn a U.S. District Court ruling barring expansion of the airport's main east-west runway, but the Federal Aviation Administration wants to delay the expansion while it evaluates the possible effects an enlarged airport would have on the area.

Newburgh Chief Is Free on Bail

NEWBURGH, N.Y. (AP) — Humbert Cappelli, who is still technically police chief of Newburgh, was free today for the first time since his conviction in February on charges of police corruption.

Cappelli, 44, walked out of Ossining Correctional Facility Wednesday after an appellate judge signed a bail application for $7,500. Bail was granted pending Cappelli's appeal of his indeterminate sentence after he agreed Tuesday to cooperate with a federal grand jury investigating corruption in Orange County.

In return, State Supreme Court Justice George Beishein Jr. allowed Cappelli to plead guilty to receiving a reward for official misconduct to cover to seven other indictments. The career police officer was first sentenced in Beishein's court in White Plains, under a change of venue, on 10 of 18 indictments. The rest were considered in Tuesday's court action.

Conditional Discharges Highlight of City Court

KINGSTON, In addition, Mary Mitchell was directed to perform volunteer work for a local agency for the duration of her jail sentence. Both women were placed on probation by Judge Richter.

Both were arrested earlier this month at Kingston Plaza. Shirley Mitchell was accused of stealing merchandise from Sears; Mary Mitchell, her sister, was arrested at the same time for possession of merchandise stolen earlier from J. C. Penney. Mary M. Mitchell, 24, of 115 Hone Street, charged with criminal possession of stolen property and Shirley A. Mitchell, 35, of 197 Washington Avenue, charged with petit larceny, also were given conditional discharge on 30 day jail sentences.

Patrolmen Appointed

KINGSTON will serve a one year probationary period. Two probationary patrolmen were appointed to the Kingston Police Department at a special meeting of the Board of Police Commissioners Tuesday.

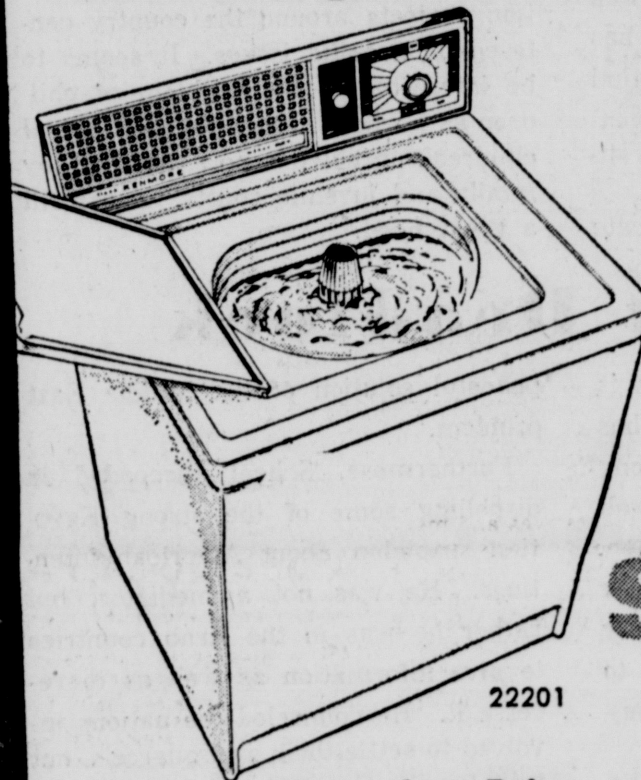

According to Police Chief Julius Glassman, the new officers appointed were George Carlson Jr., 23 of 10 Merilina Avenue and Charles Polacco, 22, of 350 East Chester Street. Both appointments will take effect June 8. The new officers will

KINGSTON, NEW YORK, MAY 31, 1973

By JACK ANDERSON.

WASHINGTON — Through a telltale "m" in the type face, we have traced a Senate bill back to the investment house that secretly prepared it.
The bill could benefit the Continental Investment Corporation, a multi-billion-dollar financial conglomerate, at the expense of its customers. Yet Senate Banking Chairman John Sparkman, D-Ala., introduced the bill without bothering even to run it through one of his own typewriters.

The legislation was drafted by John Horne, a Continental director, who used to be Sparkman's administrative assistant. The telltale clue, identified for us by an expert, was a slightly defaced "m" which appeared both in the bill and some of Horne's correspondence.

Continental manages a mutual fund and operates a brokerage firm that do business with one another. Under this arrangement, the conglomerate can keep pumping commissions from the mutual fund into the brokerage fund by turning over the stock. In other words, Continental can squeeze money out of its mutual fund customers any time it wishes simply by making another stock transaction.

Sen. Harrison Williams, D-N.J., introduced a bill that would stop this practice. Not long afterward, Horne suddenly turned up on Capitol Hill peddling an amendment that would gut the bill. It would permit Continental to continue harvesting money from its mutual fund shareholders until April 30, 1976.

Solicits Senators
Horne first tried to get Sen. Wallace Bennett, R-Utah, to introduce the amendment. This would have spared Sparkman the embarrassment of coming out in the open to help his old friend and aide. But Bennett refused to sponsor the windfall.

The amiable Horne, who had a reputation for decency on Capitol Hill, finally prevailed on his ex-boss for assistance. Not only did Sparkman introduce the amendment without bothering to retype it, but he broke his own rule requiring that proposed amendments be submitted in writing to the committee 24 hours in advance of meetings.

Unaware of Sparkman's close ties to the bill's beneficiary, the Senate Banking Committee routinely approved the amendment. The senators didn't notice that the type face was different from other committee papers.

Footnote: A spokesman for Sparkman explained that the amendment would help several firms, in addition to Horne's, by granting them time to adjust to the new requirements. We left messages for Horne in Bermuda where he is cruising but received no response. Meanwhile, Continental's brokerage firm, Waddell and Reed, has been accused by the Securities and Exchange Commission staff of violating antifraud laws. The brokerage firm caused the mutual fund to do business, according to the formal charge, for the benefit of the conglomerate instead of the shareholders.

WASHINGTON WHIRL

PETERSEN'S PLIGHT: Assistant Attorney General Henry Petersen, who was in charge of the Watergate prosecution until the appointment of a special investigator, may find himself at the other end of the investigation. The prosecutors have served notice upon him that he will be called as a witness. We reported last week that Petersen had been quoted as saying President Nixon personally instructed him to "go easy" on the Watergate investigation. Petersen denied he had made the statement, which was attributed to him by his brother-in-law. As early as December 26, we reported that the Justice Department was sounding out the Watergate defendants through their attorneys about pleading guilty. The White House wanted to avoid a public trial.

BARKER BALKS: Bernard Barker, who recruited the Cuban crew that committed the celebrated Watergate break-in, swore to senators that he hadn't been offered money or clemency to plead guilty and keep his mouth shut. This conflicts with what I was told the night that Watergate ringleader E. Howard Hunt met with the burglary squad at the Arlington Towers, a fashionable apartment building across the Potomac from Washington. It was a cold night in early January on the eve of their trial. I was waiting secretly in a nearby room awaiting a report from one of the participants. He came directly from the meeting to report to me that Hunt had offered them $1,000 a month to maintain their families if they would plead guilty. We published the first report on January 15 of this attempt to bribe the Watergate defendants.

LAST JUNKET: Though his office is closing down on July 1, Darrell Trent, acting director of the Office of Emergency Preparedness, is taking one last junket at government expense. Trent flies to Ankara the first week in June for an earthquake conference and may drop in on Kuwait, Saudi Arabia, Iran and other spots. The far-traveling Trent insists the trip will be useful because after his present job folds up, he may get a post in the federal oil program.

"You Might Say We Have an Erosion Problem!"

Freeman Editorials

Children's Rights

"Children are probably more in need of representation in an organized way than any other group in America. They are non-persons and simply don't have any rights in the present system."

With that introduction, Marian Wright Edelman has formed a group seeking to reform laws dealing with children's rights called the Children's Defense Fund. It will be financed exclusively by private foundation grants.

Mrs. Edelman states that, although information is available in the U. S. Census that 2 million of the 37.2 million children between the ages of 7 and 14 are not enrolled in school, there has never been any investigation to find out why we are raising another generation of illiterates and how this situation can be improved.

Preliminary investigations indicate that, in many states, laws and regulations are designed to discourage children from minority groups and poor and rural families from attending school. Mrs. Edelman states also that in some school systems a decision is made as to whether a child is going to be a blue collar or a white collar worker, in the fourth, fifth or sixth grade. This is called labeling. The child's educational opportunities are designed around that decision.

The Children's Fund hopes to employ litigation, community organizations, investigations and research and communications to pull together local action projects around the country centered on specific issues. It seems to be interested in the problem of children as a whole, rather than individual children's problems now handled by family and juvenile courts. It can fill a great need.

Mideast Deadlock

A world statesman whose country is now involved in the Middle East has just expressed the view that the long diplomatic deadlock between the Arab nations and Israel was apt to be broken. West German Foreign Minister Walter Scheel so counseled President Anwar el-Sadat of Egypt and went on to Amman and Beirut to convey the message to Jordan and Lebanon.

Scheel had sat in on the talks between Soviet Communist leader Leonid I. Brezhnev and West German Chancellor Willy Brandt. Earlier, in Washington, he attended the talks between President Nixon and Brandt. As a first hand participant, he was able to tell the Middle East statesmen that the United States and the Soviet Union seem to be pressing for a rapid peaceful solution of the Middle East problem.

Furthermore, Scheel succeeded in dispelling some of the strong Egyptian suspicion about American intentions. He was not a mediator, but rather he was in the Arab countries to give information as well as to receive it. He counseled the nations involved to settle their own quarrels, not wait for the Great Powers to do it for them and he cited his own experience, after the German Powers did nothing about the German problem, East and West Germany were able to come to terms between themselves. The United States, as Scheel said, is working hard for a peaceful solution in the Mideast, and should be consulted, too, on agreements there.

THE LIPIZANER STALLIONS

Colonel Alois Podhajsky of the Spanish Riding School, who has just died, became a favorite in this country in the 60s when the late Robert Taylor played the screen role of the great horse trainer who brought his stallions from Nazi-occupied Vienna to General Patton. The American horse-lover sent a detachment to Czechoslovakia, where the mares were being held, returned them to the School group and preserved the equine dynasty. A humane incident in a terrible war.

BLACK GENERALS-TO-BE

The Army selected three black colonels for promotion to brigadier generals: Charles C. Rogers, 43, commander of the 42d Field Artillery Group in West Germany; Fred C. Sheffey, 44, winner of the Medal of Honor in Vietnam and a logistics officer in the Pentagon; and Roscoe Robinson Jr., 44, commander of the 82d Airborne Division's Second Brigade at Fort Bragg, N. C. They bring the number of blacks holding the rank of general or admiral in the armed forces to 16.

By WILLIAM F. BUCKLEY JR.

In Washington you can still find dewey-eyed loyalists who believe that Richard Nixon is wholly, totally, innocent of any involvement of a disreputable kind in the Watergate complex. I am not here to say that they are wrong. Not infrequently innocent faith is exactly on the mark, and I for one (for example) believe that the position of William Jennings Bryan during the Scopes trial, rated by history as the innocent fundamentalist of the occasion, was much closer to the truth than that of the sophisticated Clarence Darrow, rated by history as the modernist.

But on one point the Nixon loyalists in Washington are outraged in a way that finds them begging for opportunities to document their case objectively. One of them said bitterly the other day: "The Washington Post considers it newsworthy only when testimony is given before the Senate Committee that is damaging to Nixon."

On the man-bites-dog test of newsworthiness, this is not so surprising if it is generally accepted that anything pro-Nixon - as - innocent - until - proved-guilty is not news, it is mere supererogation. Or can it be held that the anti-Nixon case is now so widely accepted (by 58 per cent of the American public, according to Gallup) that in fact anything that suggests Nixon's non-complicity in Watergate becomes the real news story?

Another observer complained of the difference between the handling by the Washington Post and by the New York Times, on the very same day, of the testimony of Gerald Alich. Alich severely challenged the credibility of his former client, James McCord. That story, comforting to the Nixon forces, made the major headline in the New York Times the next day. The Washington Post did not even carry the story on the front page. Indeed the Post has become a prosecutorial newspaper ablaze with its mission to bring about the downfall of the Nixon Administration.

It is relevant to inquire whether in the heat of its passion, which it shares with many Americans, particularly among liberal intellectuals in whose veins Jacobinical blood flows, the Washington Post has the time to protest minor injustices.

Last Friday the Washington Post was inveighing away against Nixon and his court, but ran also an editorial in defense of the acquittal of the agents... in the activities as you have heard them were so fundamentally unfair as to be an offense to the basic standards of decency and shocking to the universal sense of justice, then you may acquit any of the defendants to whom this defense applies."

On the Right

Nixon and His Loyalists

"This," the Post concludes, "is not simply good law, it is also good sense."

In my judgment, a plausible point. One wonders then: Why does not the Washington Post importune Judge Sirica to acquit the Watergate felons? These were men who were asked by government officials far more exalted than FBI agents to commit their burglary. And they were asked to do it in the name of the national security. What is missing in the analogy? Why doesn't Judge Sirica summon the defendants and tell them: you were wrong and stupid to do what you did, but the jury did not know at the time you were sentenced that you were asked to do what you did by government officials in what they termed the higher interest. Accordingly, I rule that you were convicted on insufficient evidence, and set aside the verdict. Herblock could be got to illustrate the point.

UDC Flops Off-Broadway

By MARTIN F. NOLAN

BEDFORD HILLS, N.Y. — Those in search of issues — deferred by what's going on in Washington — could profitably zero in on this New England-style hamlet in northern Westchester County. The town election next week is a hot one, for the first time in memory. Voters are being asked to choose among different candidates with similar attitudes against the reality of urban life in the halcyon hills of Westchester County.

At issue is the state Urban Development Corporation's plan to build a 100-unit plot of townhouses for low-income and moderate-income people. According to state and federal law, these new homes would go first to Vietnam veterans, then to town or county residents.

But many of the town's 20,000 residents are convinced that their new neighbors are likely to be exported directly from 125th Street in Harlem, 45 miles and countless cultural light years away.

Into the controversy has stepped Gov. Nelson Rockefeller, for the first time overruling the UDC, which he baptized as the nation's most ambitious housing agency in 1968.

But that was 1968, when Rockefeller was more sympathetic to the plight of the downtrodden than he appears to be lately.

Last week the governor approved a bill in the legislature to take away UDC's powers to supercede local zoning laws. The bill, sponsored by outraged Westchester assemblymen, leaves UDC's superpowers over cities intact, but gives suburban towns and villages supremacy over their own housing problems.

For UDC and its president, Edward J. Logue, the Rockefeller reversal is a stinging defeat. In his annual report to his board of directors, Logue blamed Westchester opposition to UDC on "the threat of higher local taxes, the override of local zoning, the threat of 'big daddy' government, and on plain, old-fashioned prejudice."

The uproar against UDC in these sedate villages equalled anything Logue found in his controversial career in urban renewal in Boston and New Haven.

The difference then was that strong mayors backed him up. Rockefeller is indisputably a strong governor and his support has helped UDC sponsor $1.1 billion of construction and provide housing for 30,000 families throughout the state.

But building in New York, Albany, Syracuse or Buffalo is one thing. Building in secure, insular — and politically powerful — suburbia is something else. It's too touchy.

Suburbia, of course, is where the jobs are. Westchester County has taken out ads in financial pages boasting of how many major American companies (33 at last count) have settled here.

According to census statistics, 80 per cent of those working in Westchester earn less than $12,000 annually, a figure evoking giggles and horse laughs from most Westchester real estate czars.

There is no federal policy on encouraging low-income housing in the suburbia. George Romney tried one and was stepped on by men in the White House.

And now there is no state policy in this most progressive of states, either. Nelson Rockefeller tried it for a while, but he has passed the buck to voters in places like Bedford Hills, where they don't seem to want "those people" here in Westchester.

"It's for 'The Committee to Establish a Martha Mitchell Park in Washington'."

Demands Made By Hijackers Are Rejected

BOGOTA, Colombia (UPI) — The Colombian government rejected political demands by two men who hijacked a domestic airliner Wednesday and forced its crew to fly them to a West Indies island, where they threatened to blow up the plane and 65 persons remaining on board.

A government statement said Colombia could not accept the demands because to do so would "undermine the national judicial system."

"We will not negotiate with seditionists or outlaws," said President Misael Pastrana Borrero before a four-hour meeting of his national security council that ended with rejection of the hijackers' demands.

The plane, a turbo-jet owned by the Medellin Airlines Co. (SAM), was hijacked during a hopschotchting domestic flight that started in Cali and was intended to end at Cartagena on the Atlantic coast.

It remained parked early today at the international airport at Aruba, in the Dutch Antilles, where the hijackers ordered it to land to take on enough fuel to reach Cuba.

Officials said the hijackers demanded payment of $200,000 in ransom and the release of 47 accused supporters of guerrilla movements awaiting courts martial in Colombian jails.

Later, informed sources said the ransom demand was increased to $300,000, but there was no announcement of this.

The plane was carrying a crew of seven and 82 passengers, officials said, when two long haired men carrying pistols and machine guns ordered the pilot, Jorge Luceña, to take them to Beatrix airport in Aruba.

There, the hijackers allowed 24 persons, most of them women and children, to leave the plane.

The 24 relayed to authorities what the hijackers called an ultimatum—that they would blow up the plane and its remaining passengers unless the Colombian government met their demands.

It was the second such case in South America this month. A Venezuelan airliner was hijacked May 18 by leftwing guerrillas and its crew forced to fly to Cuba, but their demands for money and the release of political prisoners was not met.

Light Turnout Of Irish Voters

DUBLIN (UPI) — Nearly one-half of Ireland's eligible voters failed to vote Wednesday in a presidential election that spokesmen for both candidates said was closer than anyone expected.

The counting of the nearly one million ballots cast for the men seeking to succeed President Eamon De Valera was scheduled to begin at 5 a.m. EDT.

One of the candidates was Erskine Childers, the first Protestant to seek the presidency in this overwhelmingly Roman Catholic republic.

His opponent, 56-year-old lawyer Tom O'Higgins, seeking the presidency for the second time, ran with the support of Prime Minister Liam Cosgrave's recently elected coalition government.

O'Higgins was a heavy pre-election choice, but his campaign managers said he needed a high poll to make victory certain.

In his last campaign in 1966, O'Higgins ran within 10,000 votes of De Valera and nearly scored a sensational victory over the 91-year-old president.

Bomb Explosions Injure 18 Persons

BELFAST (UPI) — Bomb explosions injured 18 persons and two candidates were attacked Wednesday in the first Northern Irish local elections in six years. Voters went to the polls guarded by 27,000 soldiers, police and militiamen.

Armored cars toured the province today to collect ballots and full results of the elections were not expected until Friday.

Despite the bombings, one of them injuring 10 persons, the military described Wednesday as a day of "minor violence."

Officials at 600 polling stations said the turnout was heavy.

The most serious election-day incident occurred at the Anchor Bar in Belfast, where a bomb hurled through a window exploded and injured 10 persons, none of them seriously.

In other violence, an explosion shook the city center about a dozen blocks from city hall, and a car bomb exploded three minutes after a telephone call warned police to clear the area. That explosion slightly injured two persons.

Three parttime militiamen were injured 25 miles northwest of Belfast when a land mine exploded.

In the attack on two of the 1,200 candidates seeking seats on municipal and rural councils, a youth threw an axe handle through the windshield of a car in a Roman Catholic area of Belfast. One candidate was slightly injured.

Early today, a Catholic mob burned a Protestant home in a Catholic area of Belfast. Earlier, the mob set the homes of two other Protestant families on fire after driving the families out.

Troops and police who went to the scene came under fire from snipers but police said there were no reports of any injuries.

UFO Advocates Study 1997 Crash

AURORA, Tex. (UPI) — A the newspapers recently," she 91-year-old woman says she said. "We were living in Aurora remembers the night on April at the time but my mother and 19, 1897, her parents went to the father wouldn't let me go with spot where an airship crashed then when they went up to the into Judge Proctor's well and crash site at Judge Proctor's the pilot was buried in the well.

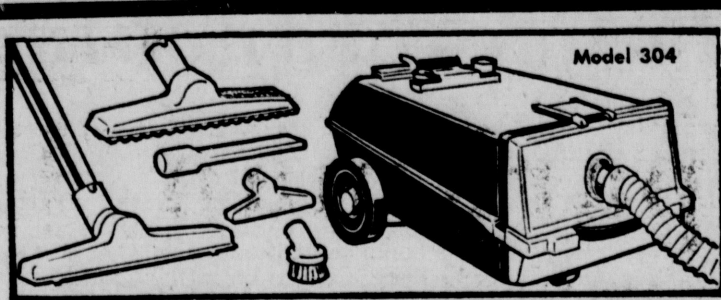

"The crash certainly caused a lot of excitement," Mary Evans said Wednesday. "Many people were frightened. They didn't know what to expect. That was years before we had any regular airplanes or other kind of airships."

"The Wright Brothers made their historic flight at Kitty Hawk in December, 1903. This has led some to believe the airship that crashed at the Texas well was from another planet, if indeed such an airship exists. Mrs. Evans has no doubts.

"I was only about 15 at the time and had all but forgotten the incident until it appeared in

State Police Searching For Robbery Suspect

PINE BUSH Wednesday night, but the by Ellenville state police at State police have arrested bandits successfully eluded their home on 6 Church Street in Ellenville.

Later Wednesday night, the three were arraigned however, 29-year-old Mark before local magistrates and Wyles was arrested at his home committed to the Orange County Jail without bail pending later. 25-year-old Frank a later examination. They were Peterson and 24-year-old Ed charged with first degree robbery.

Arrested along with Peterson and Whitaker in Ellenville was 18-year-old Cynthia Regan, charged with fourth degree criminal possession of a dangerous drug (heroin) and possession of a firearm, which police alleged was the gun used in Wednesday's holdup.

She was arraigned before pending a later examination. Town of Wawarsing Justice Police believe that a fourth Maurice Rosenstock and suspect — the one with the committed to the Ulster County money — is still at large. Their Jail in lieu of $5,000 cash bail search for him continues.

Gold Price Hits Record

LONDON (AP) — The price of gold jumped $1 an ounce to a record $115 at today's opening of the London gold market. But by midmorning the five main dealers had pulled the price back 50 cents.

Dealers said turnover was moderate in London, the only major European center open during the Ascension Day holiday.

The U.S. dollar weakened further in relation to the British pound. The pound opened at $2.5650, then moved up to $2.5680.

In Hong Kong, the price of gold jumped nearly $4 dollars an ounce to close at $115.31. Asian markets, although they open and close long before those in Europe, generally follow the previous day's trend in London and Zurich, the world's two biggest bullion markets.

The dollar dropped off slightly in Tokyo also, from 264.995 yen to 264.85.

Vols Session

Cornell Hose Co. will be the host company for a regular meeting of the Kingston Volunteer Firemen's Association to be held tonight at 8 p.m. at the meeting room of Rapid Hose Co., 85 Hone Street. Delegates, line officers and members of the various volunteer fire companies are invited to attend the meeting. Open for discussion will be ways and means to enlist the cooperation of the Board of Fire Commissioners and city administration in securing new fire apparatus for Rapid Hose Co., Cordis Hose Co. and Wicks Engine Co.

Buckley Bill Would Stop Abortions

WASHINGTON (AP) — Abortions, except to save the life of the mother, would end under a constitutional amendment proposed today by Sen. James L. Buckley, Con.-N.Y. The amendment would establish that fetuses are persons entitled to constitutional and legal protection. In its recent decision on abortions, the Supreme Court held that fetuses are not persons in the whole sense and that they do not possess the capability of meaningful life.

Buckley took issue with the court's finding and said the terms of the amendment would specifically establish that unborn children are persons with the meaning of the 5th and 14th amendments to the Constitution.

Subdivision Is Approved

SHANDAKEN The Shandaken Planning Board approved a 15-lot subdivision in Shandaken Heights Wednesday night at its monthly meeting held in the Town Hall in Altamont.

The original proposal called for 17 lots in Shandaken Heights but the New York Water Shed would only approve the subdivision if two of the lots would be used as water seepage beds.

The board also reviewed a sketch plan for a combination shopping center and condominium complex of 84 units, to be located on Route 28 near the Shandaken town line.

The use of the 34.37 acre site drew strong opposition from the Shandaken Conservation Council. The Planning Board stressed, however, that there is no zoning to prevent the Creekside plan and that it only can be reviewed under the subdivision regulations the town has.

Consultant Planner Frederick P. Wiedle informed the board that he is drawing up a land development plan which will be submitted to the town in the latter part of July.

REHEARSING FOR KINGSTON APPEARANCE

Salvation Army Concert Set

KINGSTON The Salvation Army's highly acclaimed New York Staff Band and Male Chorus will present a concert on Saturday June 2 at 7:30 p.m. in the Kingston High School auditorium. The band will also be at the Old Dutch Church the following Sunday morning for the 11 a.m. worship service.

Often called "America's foremost brass band," the Manhattan melody-makers have combined competence in vocal and instrumental presentations since being organized in 1887. Their varied program includes classical transcriptions of thrilling metre and majesty and gospel song arrangements of soul-stirring simplicity and sacredness.

Described as "amateur musicians who play like professionals," the bandmen render their service in addition to their regular duties as officers and employees of the Salvation Army.

The Male Chorus is a popular feature of Staff Band concerts and the vocal group has been on many television and radio programs in both the United States and Canada.

Part of an international fellowship of more than 50,000 Salvation Army bandmen, the New York Staff Band has participated in the Billy Graham Evangelistic Crusades, has been applauded by several Presidents of the United States and has made many international visits.

The band has toured the British Isles, The Netherlands, Germany, Switzerland and also participated in the Tournament of Roses Parade this year in Pasadena, California.

Ulster County Grand Jury Hands Up 8 Indictments

KINGSTON Charges of attempted murder, assault and conspiracy were among the eight indictments involving 11 persons handed up by the Ulster County Grand Jury in Supreme Court Wednesday.

Robert L. Hines, 23, of the Bronx, was indicted for attempted murder of Fred Ector of Kingston whom it is alleged he shot outside the Garden of Eden Restaurant, Feb. 4. Ector recovered from the bullet wound. Hines, who is unemployed, lived in New Paltz at the time of the incident.

Edward Hayes, 19, of Port Ewen, was indicted on charges of assault in the third degree arising out of an incident Feb. 23 in which it is alleged Hayes struck George Longendyke, 20, of Sleighsburg in the eye with a beer glass. The incident arose out of an argument at Van Loan's Corner Restaurant, Port Ewen, the result of which was the loss of Longendyke's eye.

Norman Schwartz, 39, of 6 Maplewood Drive, Loch Sheldrake, was indicted on charges of alleged conspiracy in the third degree. Schwartz is charged in connection with the alleged conspiracy to commit grand larceny. He was originally charged with possession of stolen property (computer cards) from a Newburgh Company for use in a computer company he planned to set up in Ellenville.

Ronald Robinson, 34, of Liverpool, a salesman for the Newburgh firm, previously pleaded guilty in Justice Court to conspiracy to commit grand larceny, a misdemeanor. District Attorney Francis J. Vogt, representing The People, handed up the indictments to Supreme Court Justice Louis G. Bruhn.

Also indicted were the following: Lewis Rushano of Poughkeepsie, owner of LFR Tire Company, on charges of grand larceny in the third degree. Rushano is alleged to have issued bad checks totaling $1,056 to Van Kleek Tire Service, Lake Katrine.

Donald Joseph Johnson, 17, of 139 O'Neil Street, Kingston, charged with alleged burglary in the third degree and grand larceny in the third degree in connection with a break-in Jan. 26 in the apartment of Anthony Peone, 496 Albany Avenue, Kingston.

Lester Jansen, 34 Creek Locks Road, Bloomington and Louis Hasbrouck, 22 of 40 Furnace Street, Kingston, charged with burglary in the third degree and attempted petit larceny. The charges arise out of an alleged burglary of the Twaalfskill Country Club March 27.

Anthony Lisotta of Rt. 212, Woodstock, charged with alleged possession of a dangerous weapon (hand grenade), criminal possession of a dangerous drug in the fourth degree (cocaine), criminal possession of a dangerous drug in the fourth degree (marijuana), possession of stolen property, third degree, allegedly taken from a home in Woodstock; criminal possession of a dangerous drug in the sixth degree, amphetamine and possession of a narcotic implement (pipe). Indicted with Lisotta was David Gunning, also of Woodstock who was named on two counts, alleged criminal possession of a dangerous drug in the sixth degree, (amphetamine) and possession of a narcotic implement (pipe). Jeffrey Reeves, 29, of Yerry Hill Road, Woodstock and Douglas Reginald Every, 22, of Mt. Tremper were indicted for alleged criminal possession of a dangerous drug in the first degree (16 ounces of cocaine), possession of a dangerous drug in the third degree (over an ounce of marijuana), possession of a dangerous drug in the sixth degree (LSD) and possession of a narcotic implement. Reeves and Every were arrested in Woodstock.

Lottery Search On For Grand Tier Winner

KINGSTON The New York State Lottery is searching for one of the grand tier prize winners in its delayed second bonus drawing, held in conjunction with the drawing of the winning weekly number at Kingston Shopping Plaza May 24.

When located, Jovita Guzman, formerly of 118 Grattan Street, Brooklyn will receive $6,319. The lottery office has been advised that the prize winner has moved and left no forwarding address.

The Guzman prize is one of almost $1 million in prizes awarded in the Thursday drawings. Tax Commissioner Norman Gallman said, Robert E. Hammel, 33-09 34th Avenue, Astoria, an invalid who has not worked for some time, took the top prize of $94,790 in the bonus drawing.

NEW YORK (AP) — Stock market prices opened broadly lower today, continuing the downturn that began Tuesday. The Dow Jones average of 30 industrials was down almost a point, while declines topped advances on the New York Stock Exchange by an 8 to 5 margin. Opening Big Board prices included American Telephone, up 1/4 to 51 1/2; Walt Disney, off 2 1/2 to 90; Borden, down 3/4 to 21 1/4; Eastern Air Lines, down 1/4 to 10 1/4; and Standard Oil of California, down 1/2 to 74.

On Wednesday, the Dow plunged 16.70 to 908.87 in light trading that saw 11.73 million shares change hands on the Big Board.

On the American Stock Exchange, the price change index fell .13 to 22.65.

New York Mayoral Primary... Four 'B's With Little Sting

NEW YORK (AP) — The four 'B's — Badillo, Beame, Biaggi and Blumenthal — have been buzzing busily in their race for the Democratic nomination for mayor of New York City, but as primary day approaches they've managed to inject little sting into the contest.

Unless one of the four gets at least 40 per cent of the vote next Monday, a runoff between the two top candidates will take place June 26. About 773,000 enrolled Democrats voted in the mayoral primary four years ago.

Comptroller Abraham D. Beame is generally thought to be ahead by political prognosticators. The veteran city official was beaten by John V. Lindsay in the 1965 mayoral race.

Now Lindsay is bowing out after eight years of battering in "the second toughest job in the country," and the winner of the Democratic primary is presumed to have a headstart in heavily Democratic New York.

But there are a number of unknowns, chiefly revolving around the legal troubles of Rep. Mario Biaggi of the Bronx, that could make things different this year.

Except for the hubbub surrounding Biaggi and earlier excitement about the aborted candidacy of former Mayor Robert F. Wagner, the race has aroused little public enthusiasm, if polls are any guide.

State Sen. John J. Marchi of Staten Island, who beat Lindsay in the Republican primary in 1969 only to lose to him when Lindsay ran on the Liberal party line, has the GOP nomination. Occupied in Albany, Marchi has run an invisible campaign so far.

Biaggi has the Conservative party designation, but some top leaders of the party are still determined to dump him.

Assemblyman Albert H. Blumenthal of Manhattan has the backing of Liberal party leaders in their primary, but he's being challenged by J. Stanley Shaw, a Queens lawyer seeking to topple Liberal chieftain Alex Rose.

Beame and Rep. Herman Badillo of the Bronx are running only in the Democratic primary.

Biaggi's troubles started when it was revealed that the former policeman refused to answer a grand jury's questions in 1971, invoking the Fifth Amendment.

The Bronx congressman, a silver-haired 55 years old, at first denied that he had refused to answer. But after complicated legal maneuvering in the federal courts, an edited transcript of the grand jury minutes showed Biaggi's denial to be untrue.

Despite the opinion of political commentators that the episode badly damaged his candidacy, Biaggi has pressed on, hoping for a sympathy vote.

While alleging that a "conspiracy" led by Gov. Nelson A. Rockefeller has been seeking to cripple him, Biaggi has hinted that there were ethnic considerations without specifically saying so.

"But there is no question that there is a calculated effort to keep me out of City Hall, and I am an American of Italian descent," he said.

Campaigning in a drenching rain on Memorial Day, Biaggi remarked, "Everything's coming along fine. Beame's on the wane. We're on the upsurge. There's a tremendous undecided vote."

There's little to separate the candidates on the issues. Each claims he is best equipped to make the streets safe, save the 35-cent subway fare, build new housing and make government more efficient.

Beame, 67, has the support of most of the city's Democratic party organization. Building on his reputation as a careful auditor of the city's accounts, he says he can best "manage" the city.

The comptroller refers to his 4 vote, then put his articulate rivals as "Johnny-come-lates" in the field of city government. As befits a presumed front-runner, he has refrained from issuing as many position papers as the others and has avoided a number of debates.

Blumenthal, 44, the deputy leader of the Democratic minority in the State Assembly, has been fighting to overcome his lack of recognition by the public.

As the candidate of the liberal New Democratic Coalition, he has sought to dismiss Biaggi as "irrelevant" and Badillo as far behind.

"It's a two-man race between Beame and me," the assemblyman contended.

His strategy has called for him to finish second in the June command of state and city issues to the test in an attempt to prove he's a fresh, new alternative to a tired, unimaginative Beame.

Blumenthal has charged that Beame is tied to real estate interests because they have been heavy contributors to the Beame campaign.

Badillo, pictured by Blumenthal as a spoiler, has been buoyed by editorial endorsements from the New York Times and New York Post.

He has sought to drum up support from the black community, to couple with the support he expects from his fellow Puerto Ricans. Badillo, 43, former Bronx Borough President, is hoping to be the first Puerto Rican to win the mayoralty.

The congressman, asking her

Blumenthal to "step aside," said he was Beame's main opponent. Badillo has stressed his experience in city government and the need to bring minorities into the mainstream.

There are a number of intriguing possibilities for November. Should Beame or Badillo get the Democratic nod and Blumenthal the Liberal, they could be involved in a four-way race with Biaggi and Marchi.

If Biaggi runs both as a Democrat and Conservative, he and Marchi would be vulnerable to an upset by Blumenthal on the Liberal line.

While it's unclear how many Monday, the buzzing is bound to grow louder before November arrives.

COMMITTEE FORMED—At a recent meeting of the Ulster County Environmental Management Council a committee was formed to encourage the formation of Environmental Conservation Commissions in the nine townships in the county which are without them. On the committee are Robert Gannon of Rosendale and Jules Viglielmo of Woodstock. Viglielmo, shown above right, discusses the details of the formation of such commissions with Town of Hurley Supervisor George Schroeder. (Cricket Hill Studio Photo)

The Other Day

Michael Leopold

Talking about birds, an acquaintance told us, "Birds have been living on earth almost as long as any other living creatures, and much longer than most. There seems to be very little cross breeding by birds, with each species grouping and living only with its own kind. Each year billions of birds unfailingly migrate north and south, and since most of the migration is in darkness one cannot assume that they fly by sight of land marks. The arctic tern migrates annually all the way from the arctic to the antarctic, and then back again!" Well, our job is to be here to SERVE you with outstanding value!

Four in Class At Skidmore

SARATOGA SPRINGS — Four Ulster County residents were among the 409 seniors receiving bachelor of arts and bachelor of science degrees May 20 at the 62nd annual commencement exercises of Skidmore College in Saratoga Springs.

Cynthia E. Krimezis of 55 Bellevue Road, Highland, received the bachelor of arts degree in sociology and Elizabeth J. London of 300 Pearl Street, Kingston, received the bachelor of arts degrees in biology.

Recipients of the bachelor of science degree in art were Colleen F. and Kathleen R. Kenyon, of 10 Lookout Avenue, New Paltz.

Graduates and guests heard Catherine Mackin, NBC news correspondent, speak on the effects of the Watergate investigation on their attitudes toward the American Political system. Ms. Mackin, who achieved national prominence in covering the 1972 presidential campaign, was awarded an honorary master of letters degree.

Dr. Joseph C. Palamountain Jr., Skidmore president, also conferred an honorary doctor of letters degree upon Dr. Aileen Ward, professor of English at Brandeis University and author of the prize-winning biography "John Keats: the Making of a Poet."

Linda Taylor Magna Cum Laude, Five Others Fredonia Graduates

FREDONIA — Linda B. Taylor, formerly of Kingston, graduated magna cum laude from the State University College at Fredonia on May 20 as part of a graduating class of 950.

Mrs. Taylor is the former Linda Buddie, daughter of the Rev. and Mrs. Donald T. Buddie of 195 Tremper Avenue. She began her college career at the Eastman School of Music in Rochester and later transferred to Fredonia, where her cumulative average was 3.69 out of a possible 4.0, and she was named a "President's Scholar" in recognition of her scholastic achievements.

Mrs. Taylor is currently employed by the computer center at the State University College at Fredonia and resides in Brocton with her husband, Kirby Taylor, manager of a supermarket there.

Five other Ulster county residents were among the more than 950 students who received degrees May 20 in commencement exercises at the State University College at Fredonia. Bachelor's degrees were awarded to Robert D. Ennis, 57 Dunneman Avenue, Kingston (music education); Linda B. Henry, 9 Roselyn Street, Ellenville (elementary education); Karen L. Sparks, 14 Park Drive, Woodstock (theatre arts); and Linda J. and Lucia J. Wojcio, of Neighborhood Road, Lake Katrine (elementary education).

An estimated 150 graduate students were included in the students receiving degrees May 20.

Commencement on Sunday

14 to Get Ulster Academy Degrees

KINGSTON—Fourteen students will receive diplomas at Ulster Academy's fourth commencement exercises scheduled for Sunday at the Academy Grounds off Route 32 in the Town of Ulster at 3 p.m.

Dr. Michael Levin, director of the west coast and Paris divisions of the Rand Corporation, will be the commencement speaker.

Dr. Levin received his A.B. and M.A. degrees from Harvard University and his Ph.D. from the University of Paris. An associate producer and director of television programs and Hollywood films, Dr. Levin is the founder and president of three firms whose tasks are to analyze problems on top management levels affecting production and profit.

He also serves as a free lance consultant working on specific contracts to solve specific management-level problems. Dr. Levin, whose hobby is music, is reported to have one of the most extensive collections of records and tapes in the United States. He serves as a music consultant to several radio stations.

All the members of Ulster Academy's graduating class plan to attend college in the fall.

The graduates, and their prospective colleges, are: Jeffrey Christensen, University of Pittsburgh; John Cline, University of Heidelberg; Timothy Detweiler, Reed College; Barbara Kamen, Franklin Pierce College; Mary Kearney, University of Georgia; Jody Keefe, Vassar College; Matthew Leaycraft, Boston University; Gordon MacLeod, Bard College; Michael Reppert, Franklin Pierce College; Robert Russell, Bennington College; Inez Steele, Emerson College; Andrea Turco, Ulster County Community College; Bruce Webster, Wentworth College and Jeffrey Weinberger, Franklin Pierce College.

Ulster Academy, founded in 1968, is an independent secondary school for approximately 70 students in grades 7-12. Its new campus facilities in the Town of Ulster were opened this year.

DEGREE AT SHOW—Joseph Holland, son of Mr. and Mrs. Avan Holland Sr. of 219 East Union Street, Kingston, received his bachelor of arts degree in French recently from Shaw University, Raleigh, N.C. During his four years at the university he also studied through an exchange at Laval University, Quebec, Canada. Beginning with the coming fall semester he will begin work toward the master of arts degree in romance linguistics at Cornell University, Ithaca. (Powell photo)

PAM BENITEZ

Pam Benitez Gets Award for Campus Service

Pam Benitez, 163 Main Street, received the Ethan A. H. Shepley Award for outstanding service to the Washington University campus community at the annual honors convocation May 24 on campus.

The award is named in honor of former Chancellor Ethan A. H. Shepley, who frequently has served the University and community as a volunteer leader.

Area Graduates

BRIAN BUBOLTZ

7 From County Receive Degrees At Morrisville

MORRISVILLE Seven Ulster County residents were among the 835 degree candidates at the 62nd annual commencement of the State University Agricultural and Technical College at Morrisville held Sunday, May 27.

Candidates for associate degrees and their fields of concentration are: Briar F. Buboltz, son of Mr. and Mrs. Leo Buboltz of 33 New Street, Kingston (agronomy); Robert A. Cole, son of Mr. and Mrs. Alton Cole of 182 Clay Road, Ulster Park (data processing); Michael E. Corey, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Corey of 36 Old Route 299, New Paltz (natural resources conservation); Casey R. Kaelin, son of Mr. and Mrs. Robert Kaelin of Route 2, Box 218, New Paltz (automotive technology); Linda D. Leimgruber, daughter of Mr. and Mrs. John Leimgruber of RD 4, Saugerties (medical laboratory technology); Paul R. Piastro, of Box 184, Saugerties (natural resources conservation); and Eugene A. Terwilliger, son of Mr. and Mrs. Ivan Terwilliger of R. 3, Kingston (food service administration).

President Royson N. Whipple conferred degrees and the commencement address was delivered by Donald L. Bashore, associate professor at Bloomsburg State College.

Lenore Kline Is Graduate Of Bryn Mawr

BRYN MAWR, PA.

Lenore Kline, daughter of Dr. and Mrs. David Kline, 10 Len Court, Kingston, was one of 341 students receiving graduate and undergraduate degrees May 14 at commencement exercises of Bryn Mawr College, Bryn Mawr, Pa. Miss Kline, who majored in the history of religion, graduated cum laude.

President Harris Wofford presided over the close of the college's 88th academic year, awarding 192 bachelor of arts degrees, 62 masters of social services degrees, 48 master of arts degrees and 29 doctor of philosophy degrees.

Located 11 miles west of Philadelphia, Bryn Mawr was the first college in the country to award a ph.d. degree to a woman (in 1888). It remains today the only independent women's college with an extensive graduate program.

It's now or never.

Because bank-wide gift promotions will soon be a thing of the past.

Right now is your last chance ever to receive a free gift for opening or adding to a savings account at any of Heritage Savings Banks' three offices.

New state banking regulations prohibit all bank-wide gift promotions after June 30th. From that date on, gift promotions can be conducted only at the grand opening of a new office, and gifts given for new accounts only.

So beat that deadline. Come in to Heritage and claim your free gift from among the 21 shown here for depositing $500 or more. Your selection category depends, of course, on the amount of your deposit.

You'll receive not only a free gift, but the highest interest permitted by law on all accounts. For example, your money earns 5% interest on regular and day-of-deposit to day-of-withdrawal accounts, with an effective annual yield of 5.20% as long as interest is allowed to accumulate. We also offer certificates of deposit, with higher interest rates. Our 6% term account, for example, which has an effective annual yield of 6.27% (minimum deposit $1000, two to five years) if interest is left to accumulate.

It's now or never. So, better act now. Just keep two things in mind: minimum deposits must remain in accounts for at least a year; and, only one gift per account while the supply lasts. So bring or mail your passbook from another bank now. You'll receive your gift. And we'll transfer your account automatically.

Deposit $5000 or more and choose one of these free gifts.*

Disabled Widows Must File New Claim

KINGSTON Habernig, social security district manager in Kingston. Widows who have been getting survivors payments from social security but who have only to people 65 and over, been severely disabled for last 2 years, may be eligible for Medicare starting July 13, but they must file a disability claim, according to George J. Habernig, social security district manager in Kingston. "But some severely disabled widows 50 and over have never applied for disability payments," Habernig said. "Generally they've been getting social security survivor benefits because they're 60 or over and they've been getting benefits as widowed mothers who have young or disabled children in their care." "To get Medicare, these widows must file a claim for disability payments," Habernig said. "As soon as possible, they should call, write, or visit any social security office. If a widow is unable to make contact, a friend or relative may help. If necessary, arrangements can be made for a social security representative to visit her." The Kingston social security office is at 57 Albany Ave.

$5,000 FOR AMBULANCE SQUAD—Olive Town Supervisor James H. Electric, Gas Corporation To Seek Line Approval

WALTON New York State Electric and Gas Corporation will apply early in June to the Public Service Commission for permission to rebuild a transmission line from Bloomville to Axtell Road near Stamford, announced Robert T. Sorensen, manager for the utility at Walton. "The higher voltage transmission line is a necessity if we are to continue to supply good service to this region," said Sorensen, adding that the electric requirements of the Catskill Mountain region have been growing at the above average rate of 12 per cent a year for the past six years, primarily because of the construction of summer and winter homes and the growth of ski centers and resorts. The line will be part of an 83-mile loop that runs from the Delhi substation east to Andes, Arkville and Shandaken, then north to Prattsville and Grand Gorge, northwest to Stamford, and southwest back to Delhi. The entire loop is being rebuilt from a 46,000 volt to a 115,000 volt operation, a project that was started in the mid-1960s. In addition to rebuilding the transmission line, substations along the route must also be converted to handle the higher voltage or new substations must be built. Substations have been completed or are under construction near Andes, Arkville, Pine Hill (Bellevue), Windham and Grand Gorge. The 11-mile stretch from Bloomville to Axtell Road is the last section of the loop to be rebuilt. Reconstruction of the line is expected to begin in the fall of 1973 and to end 8 to 12 months later. Sorensen said the new line will follow the route of the utility's right of way that contains the present line, and many of the existing poles will be reused. NYSEG needs a Certificate of Environmental Compatibility along the route must also be of Environmental Compatibility and Public Need from the PSC.

Non-Phosphate Detergents Have Good Cleaning Power

BUFFALO, N.Y. (UPI)—The cleaning power of non-phosphate detergents is as good as that of detergents containing phosphates, according to most persons responding to a survey conducted by Cornell University in cooperation with the Erie County Cooperative Extension Service.

The survey was conducted in Erie County because it was one of the first in the nation to ban the sale of phosphate detergents. A state law went into effect

June 1 banning the sale of phosphate detergents throughout New York. Mrs. Elizabeth Stoner, cooperative extension agent with the Erie County Cooperative Extension Service and a graduate of Cornell, says she thought of the survey but didn't have time to do it herself. So she contacted Howard Hammerman, assistant professor of urban planning and development at Cornell, and he organized a team of graduate students to take the survey. "We took a random sampling out of the Buffalo telephone book, trying to get half from the city and half from the county," Mrs. Stoner said, then we mailed out questionnaires. Of the 522 mailed, 394 were returned.

Of those questioned, 11.9 per cent were "very dissatisfied" with the non-phosphate detergents, she said. However, about 13 per cent said they "smuggled in" phosphate detergents from other areas that haven't banned them.

SINCLAIR EXECUTIVE

Why should you pay $195 for a pocket calculator?

Look at it this way:

No matter what you pay for it, a calculator is worthless if it isn't with you when you need it.
 ...And it won't be with you if it's too bulky, too thick, too heavy to carry around in your pocket. Many "pocket" models weigh a half a pound or more.
 ...That's why we're proud to present the world's smallest, lightest and thinnest electronic calculator: the Sinclair Executive.
 ...No longer than your pocket pen, the Sinclair Executive is only 3/4" thick and weighs a mere 2 1/2 ounces. It slips into your shirt pocket without sag or bulge.

Humidifiers, applies anti-static control gathers dirt on new records

The most popular Watts cleaning tool, the Preener is designed for use with today's lightweight styli. The easy-to-use nylon plush pile Preener cleans and preserves the grooves of a new record leaving no trace of film or residue to clog the styli. By depositing the correct amount of humidity on the record surface, it acts as an effective anti-static control. At the same time it gathers stray dust and dirt. A used Preener is ideal as a turntable platter cleaning tool.

Fuel Shortage Ends Bidding for Bulk Contracts

The fuel shortage has ended bidding battles by major oil companies for bulk contracts, and some states and cities around the country are having difficulty getting supplies, even at higher prices. Urban transit authorities also are feeling the crunch. About 30 have received notices of fuel curtailment, and at least two face the threat of having to cut back service. Bulk buyers traditionally have purchased surplus fuel the major companies had left after supplying their stations. They got annual contracts and bargain prices. Now the shortage has created a seller's market. The companies say they don't want to bid because they don't have the supply to meet the over-all demand. Observers note they also make more money on their retail trade. New Jersey invited 24 firms to bid on a bulk gas contract and got one response. Frank M. Papale Jr., director of the state's Division of Purchase and Property, said the bid will be $384,000 more than last year. Dallas County in Texas will pay 50 per cent more for fuel under its new contract and Los Angeles County, 67 per cent. Linwood F. Ross, state purchasing agent for Maine, feels "we were lucky to get even one bid" on a new fuel contract. The price per gallon jumped six cents and will cost the state an additional $500,000. The American Transit Association surveyed 90 city transit buses it operates in a seven-county area. It accepted its only bid—for 3.8 million gallons at 14.9 cents, compared with 11.88 last year. "We'll have to go out and try to hustle the rest," said executive director Camille Andres. Unless more fuel is made available, he said, the prospect now is for curtailment of routes. "The industry simply is not soliciting this kind of (bulk) business," notes Jack Rehberg, director of the Montana Petroleum Association. Would-be buyers will have to compete in the market place for fuel just like everybody else, he said.

Temple Emanuel

The annual Religious School family Sabbath service will be held Friday 7:30 p.m. at Temple Emanuel, 243 Albany Avenue. All Temple Religious School teachers, students and their families will attend the final family service of the year. Children in grades three through six will be the children's choir for the service. There will be choir rehearsal at 7:05 p.m. prior to the service. All children attending the services will bring fresh fruit for a charitable offering. The fruit will be given to the Children's Home of Kingston.

Services will be conducted by Rabbi Jonathan Eichhorn, Cantor John Park and Leonard and Barbara Zimet.

The Oneg Shabbat will be sponsored by the confirmation class parents in honor of their children's forthcoming confirmation. It will be held in the Rabbi Bloom Memorial Hall.

During services the memories of the following persons will be invoked: Dora Ulman, Joseph Onig, Jean and Nettie Zucker, Meyer Gasool, Ray Kapewich, Dr. Hyman Komaroff, Ike Rothenberg, Leah Karu, Harry Rose, Millie Samter and Morris Schlessinger.

Shavuot, confirmation services will be held Sunday 11 a.m. Twenty-four students will complete 10 years of formal religious education. It is the largest confirmation class in the temple's history.

Students to be confirmed are Kim Basch, Holly Caple, Andrew Cohen, Harvey Cohn, Barbara Dawson, Jo Ellen Friedman, Cheryl Goodheim, Herbert Kantor, Neil Kronick.

Also, Kathryn La Russo, Ellen Levine, Barbara London, Leslie Marcus, Barry Motzkin, Terri Motzkin.

Also, Mark Neporent, Michael Riffenburg, Victor Ronder, Mark Satinsky, Ronald Segal, Sandra Serinsky, Bonnie Simon, Aaron Sumliner and Judith Wyman.

Ahavath Israel

Religious services are held at Congregation Ahavath Israel, a Conservative Synagogue, at 100 Lucas Avenue, every Friday 8 p.m., followed by an Oneg Shabbat, and every Saturday 9:30 a.m., followed by a Kiddush.

This Friday evening services will be conducted by Dr. Harry Z. Schechtman, rabbi of the congregation, and the sermon will be devoted to the approaching holiday of Shavuot. The liturgy will be chanted by Cantor Mordecai Edry. The Mourners Prayer will be offered for the following whose yahrtzeiten will be observed in the coming week: Goldie Dubin, Sabina Eckdich, Evelyn Fertel, Julius Lipton, Ben Sherman, Jennie Hark Stone, Frances Vigden and David Wasserlauf.

The holiday of Shavuot, or the Feast of Weeks, will begin Tuesday evening, June 5, and will be observed through Thursday evening, June 7. Religious services will be held at Ahavath Israel Tuesday and Wednesday 8 p.m., and Wednesday and Thursday 9:30 a.m. Yizkor (Memorial) Services will be conducted Thursday 11 a.m.

FIRST PRIZE

American Express' FREELANCE 1. It's a 15-day European Extravaganza for two. Spend 7 days in London. Go to the theater, watch the changing of the Guard, tour Windsor Castle. Or dance the night away in a discotheque. Then you're off to Amsterdam for 3 days. Explore the canals, view original Rembrandts, or shop for Delft china.

Fly into Paris for 5 days. Stroll the Champs Elysees, dine in sidewalk cafes. Visit Versailles and picnic in the French countryside. Discover the boutiques where fashion originates. It's all free. Worry-free with all details arranged by American Express. Transportation to and from New York City airport provided by Rondout National.*

SECOND PRIZE

United Air Lines "Vegas Bonanza." Four days and 3 nights for two at the Center Strip Holiday Inn in Las Vegas. Enjoy one of America's liveliest cities. Explore the casinos, bask in the sun. For your added enjoyment, we're including a dining and entertainment special that lets you see America's top stars. It's yours, free...we'll handle all the details, including transportation to and from a New York City airport.*

THIRD PRIZE

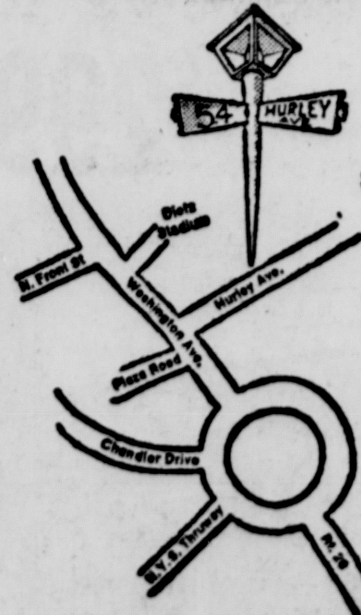

A weekend at the Nevele Country Club...or in New York. The choice is yours. You can play golf, swim and relax at the beautiful Nevele Country Club in Ellenville. Or stay at the Plaza in New York City, take in a play and shop along Fifth Avenue. Either way, it's a weekend you'll long remember...and it's free...just for the two of you.*

It's easy for you to win any of these wonderful vacations at your "one of a kind" bank

Just come in and register at any of our five offices between May 31st and June 29th. That's all you do. There's no obligation. No accounts to open or minimum deposit requirements, except to qualify for the Bonus. We know it's unusual for any bank to give away three free vacations on its anniversary. But then, we're not an ordinary bank. We're your locally owned Full Service bank...the one that's been doing things a little differently since 1848.

We've opened a new world of banking service at our Hurley Avenue office

During our 125th anniversary celebration, stop in and explore our newest banking office at 54 Hurley Avenue. We've opened this office to make banking even more convenient for you.

By offering you the best in locally owned full service banking...the kind of banking people have been growing with since 1848.

So join in the celebration at our Hurley Avenue office or any office of the one bank that takes a personal interest in you.

win an EXTRA CASH BONUS

If you win any of these vacations...to Europe...Las Vegas...the Nevele or New York...we'll give you and your traveling mate — each — $125 in cash to make your vacation even more enjoyable. To be eligible for this extra-special cash prize all you have to do is open or add $125 to a savings account. Or open a checking account with an initial deposit of $125 or more. NOTICE OF SALE

INDEX NO. 83-460
In pursuance of a judgment of foreclosure and sale duly made and entered in the above entitled action, bearing date the 15th day of May, 1973, the undersigned, the referee in said judgment named, will sell at public auction at the Court House, Town Hall in the Village of Saugerties and County of Ulster, New York, on the 26th day of June, 1973, at 11:00 in the forenoon of that day, the premises directed by said judgment to be sold and therein described being as follows:

ALL THAT CERTAIN LOT, PICE OR PARCEL OF LAND, situate, located and being in the Village of Saugerties, Ulster County, New York, being a portion of the same conveyed to Grant Teetsell by Henry Gentner by deed dated August 18, 1921, and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office in Book of Deeds 484, page 13, August 13, 1921, and bounded and described as follows: BEGINNING at a point on the southeasterly side of Teetsell Street, which point or place of beginning is two hundred thirty-five feet distant measured on the southeasterly side of Teetsell Street from the corner formed by the intersection of the southeasterly line of Teetsell Street with the southwest line of Ulster Avenue and from said point or place of beginning running westerly following the southeasterly line of Teetsell Street to its termination where now or formerly stood an old stone wall, thence south thirty-seven degrees and eighteen minutes west to a corner of said stone wall, thence following the line of now or formerly an old rail fence south thirteen degrees and twenty-five minutes east three hundred thirty-three and six-tenths feet thence north eighty-seven degrees and one minute east thirty-six and five-tenths feet to a corner of a fence thence north twenty-seven degrees and twenty-nine minutes east four hundred twenty-eight and four-tenths feet to where now or formerly stood an apple tree, thence north twenty-three degrees and eighteen minutes west for a distance which will intersect a line erected at right angles with Teetsell Street from the point of beginning on Teetsell Street and thence westerly following the line so erected at right angles to Teetsell Street to the point on Teetsell Street being the place of beginning. The premises hereby conveyed are bounded generally as follows: Northeastly by a lot fifty feet in width lying between the premises hereby conveyed and premises heretofore conveyed by the party of the first part to John Simmons and wife, northwesterly by Teetsell Street, southwesterly by line of lands of now or formerly Daisy Ayer O'Neil and southwesterly by line of lands of now or formerly of one Cole. The above described premises are expressly conveyed subject to a Grant of Gas Lines Right of Way given to Central Hudson Gas and Electric Corp. dated July 8, 1957 and recorded in the Office of the Clerk of the County of Ulster on October 21, 1957, in Book 1016 of Deeds at page 381, reference to which is hereby made. Being the same premises conveyed to Clyde F. Gardner by Deed dated August 22, 1961 and recorded in the Ulster County Clerk's Office August 23, 1961 in Liber 1111 of Deeds at Page 7. A DIVISION OF EVANS PRODUCTS COMPANY

No. 20 JOHN STREET . . . CENTER OF CONTROVERSY

John St. House . . . Historic or Rundown?

KINGSTON
A two-story frame house at 20 John Street — referred by some as the DeWitt House — is either an historical treasure somewhere around 140 years old or it is a rundown shack in the neighborhood of 80 years old.

A lively debate has sprung up about the DeWitt House, designated as an historic landmark by the city Historic Landmarks Commission in January of 1971 and purchased by what was then known as the Kingston Trust Company the following August.

The Landmarks Commission contends the building was built in the 1830's and as such "is a valuable historical link between the revolutionary period and the Victorian period." Landmarks wants the building preserved and restored.

Kingston Trust, now "The Bank," contends that its title searches of deeds indicate that the building was built around 1890. The Bank wants to demolish the building and replace it with a colonial courtyard, and not incidentally, a John Street exit to its Main Street property.

"We have always questioned the real historical value of the building," Joseph W. Robertson, president of the bank, told The Freeman. "Our information

Special

(from deeds) is that it was built in the 1890's. Our information is that the building did not exist before then. No one has ever ventured to give us any proof."

Harry Rigby, temporary chairman of the Landmarks Commission, takes the opposite view. "You can't necessarily tell when a building was built by the deed. If you could, a lot of our problems (of establishing historical dates of construction) would be solved."

Rigby says he "has no doubts" that the building was constructed prior to the middle of the 19th century. "I don't think there's any question of the age of the building. If Kingston Trust disputes it, they should get experts to examine it."

Landmarks rests its case with Professor Paul Malo of the State Historic Trust who surveyed the building in 1969 calling it "a very good early 19th century building."

The building, which has been vacant since the death of Mrs. Jesse DeWitt, widow of William DeWitt, former city historian, has been in a state of rapid deterioration ever since. In fact, Alderman Donald E. Quick (D-Sixth Ward), chairman of the Laws and Rules Committee of the Common Council, which has jurisdiction over historic sites, contends that the building is a fire hazard and structurally unsafe. "The building has been allowed to deteriorate by the bank, and we've protested that," said Rigby.

Robertson said the bank has called in restoration experts who say the building cannot be restored in its present condition. "They tell us that it would have to be taken down and then completely rebuilt," Robertson said. Since the building is an official landmark, it cannot be altered, much less demolished and therein lies the standoff.

Quick says he's looking into the legalities of "undesignating" the building, clearing the way for the bank. "We feel a colonial courtyard concept would be of tremendous value, it would revitalize the whole area," Robertson said. And, Robertson added, the bank has budgeted some $50,000 for that project.

Landmarks would rather see the bank spend that money on restoration of 20 John Street. The fate of the building apparently lies in the hands of Quick's Laws and Rules Committee.

New Breed of Porpoise, the Warrior, in U.S. Navy

SAN DIEGO, Calif. (UPI) — You remember "Flipper," of course, television's lovable performing porpoise. But "killer porpoises"?

Well, he may or may not be a killer, but there is today a new breed of porpoise—the warrior. He has that same infectious smile on his face, but his is a deadly, secret mission that is a source of growing controversy.

Here at the tip of Point Loma along the Pacific Ocean is the U.S. Navy's Undersea Research and Development Center, the training facility for the nation's military porpoises.

Some of the activities conducted here are known but most are secret.

The Navy freely discusses some missions of its porpoises. They are known to be trained to detect enemy mine and frogmen. Whales or sea lions get similar assignments.

The sea mammals also have been taught to detect and retrieve military hardware from the ocean, saving thousands of dollars and aiding in weapons research. They also are taught to rescue frogmen and to protect divers from sharks.

If, as has been reported, the porpoises are being trained in more aggressive assignments, little is being said about it.

The porpoises' "sonar system"—much like manmade radar—is so well developed that it is highly accurate in distinguishing between types of metals, sizes of objects and even types of submarines.

Tests here have shown the porpoises nearly 100 per cent accurate in selecting between the smaller of two steel balls both barely two inches in diameter. (And that was with the porpoise blindfolded.)

In short, the porpoise is highly intelligent and has a brain as large and as complicated as that of man. Porpoises learn quickly, can communicate well with man and lend themselves to sophisticated military uses.

Although the Navy has generally refused comment on military missions of its mammals, published reports in recent years have hinted at some types of training military porpoises are receiving, including the "Kamikaze" porpoise.

He allegedly is trained to carry explosives and blow up enemy submarines—and himself as well.

Trained to Attack Others are reported to be trained to detect and attack enemy frogmen by pulling off their face masks, tearing their regulator hoses and pulling off their swim fins.

Although the Navy won't discuss the mission, a team of porpoises trained here reportedly spent a year in Vietnam guarding Cam Ranh Bay against Communist frogman infiltration. Rumors said several Communist guerrillas were killed by porpoises armed with switch-blade devices on their snouts. The porpoises asserted by were controlled by radios operated by sailors from patrol boats.

A British scientific publication suggested last year that a "man to dolphin" translator has been developed that transforms human speech into pitch modulated whistles understood by the porpoises. According to his report porpoises—naturally friendly to man—were being taught aggressive behavior by the implantation of electrodes in the pleasure and pain centers of their brains.

In reply to the various reports of hostile activities by the porpoises, the Navy's last official comment on the matter was: "In spite of science fiction, conjectural and sensational so-called news stories to the contrary, the Navy has never, is not and has no plans to train any animal to injure itself in any way in connection with any alleged military mission or tactic."

Children's Courses at UCCC

Typing, Printmaking, Animating the Film and Painting with Acrylics are among the credit-free courses for exceptional children which Ulster County Community College is offering this summer.

"Every parent thinks his child is exceptional and we will accept that definition especially since we're certain it comes from an enlightened parent," says Director of Continuing Education Ronald A. Koster, with tongue in cheek.

Typing for Young People, to be taught by Dr. James J. Loricchio, chairman of the Division of Business at UCCC, young boys and girls can learn to type by touch. Electric typewriters will be used to teach machine parts, the keyboard and typing techniques.

The course will meet on five Tuesdays and Thursdays, starting July 10, with separate sections for young people between eight and 10 years old and 11 and 14 years old.

Printmaking is a course designed to teach artistically creative children (nine to 12) the blockprinting process. Relief designs will be executed and printed on both paper and fabrics. The instructor will be John A. Locke III, a member of the Department of Visual Arts faculty at the College.

It will meet on five Tuesday and Thursday afternoons starting July 10.

Animating the Film also will be taught by Mr. Locke. Some of the basic techniques of film animation — scratch and painted film, object animation, and cut-outs will be utilized to produce animated films for possible presentation on National Educational Television. The story board, scripting and budgeting for a film will be exercised by the 11 to 14 year olds who will have an opportunity to produce films as well as a group production.

The course will meet on five Tuesdays and Thursdays starting July 10.

Painting with Acrylics will be taught by Allan Cohen, also a faculty member in the Department of Visual Arts. The course will stress individual creative expression through a basic introduction to the use of acrylic polymer paints.

This course is designed for children who have exhibited talent in sketching, design or color. It will meet on five Tuesday and Thursday afternoons, starting July 10, with one section planned for children between eight and 10 years old and another section planned for children between 11 and 14.

Further information about these courses can be obtained by calling the Office for Continuing Education at the College.

Due to the Shortage of Space Clothes That Are at RITE CLEANERS Since 1972 thru Feb. 1973 will be disposed of if not picked up by June 15, 1973 PLEASE CHECK!!

MR. AND MRS. GEORGE NORTON JR. of 174 Hasbrouck Avenue, Kingston, recently celebrated their silver wedding anniversary at a surprise party given in their home. The buffet party was attended by the immediate family and neighbors. The couple was married May 30, 1948 in St. Mary's Church, Kingston. Mrs. Herbert Mantle was matron of honor and the late Joseph Norton was best man. Mr. and Mrs. Norton are the parents of four children. Mrs. Peter (Dianne) Mills, Donald, George and Vincent Norton, all of Kingston. Mr. Norton has been employed for the past 26 years by P. J. Gallagher Sons. (Freeman photo by Kruh)

MR. AND MRS. ERNEST DEWITT of Rosendale were guests of honor recently at a reception given by their children in honor of their 25th wedding anniversary. The event took place at the Alpine Restaurant in Kingston. Married April 25, 1948 at Rosendale Reformed Church, Mr. and Mrs. DeWitt are parents of Mrs. Alan Wilken of Spring Glen, Kenneth DeWitt of Bloomfield, N. J., and James DeWitt of Rosendale. They also have two grandchildren. Among the many friends and relatives in attendance were the couple's honor attendants, Harriet Williams Mulligan of Rosendale and George Claus of Kingston. Mr. DeWitt is employed in the road construction field.

The Highland Teachers' Association will honor three retiring teachers with a dinner dance at Reggie's Inn, New Paltz, N.Y., on Saturday, June 9, at 8 p.m. Tickets are available from HTA committee members. The teachers are: Mrs. Brenda Allen, Mrs. Gertrude Gaffney and Mrs. Edith Deitz.

Mrs. Allen joined the Highland High School in 1955. She has been Director of Guidance since 1971 and a Guidance Counselor since 1965. Prior to that, she was an English teacher in the Junior High. Her teaching career began in Massena, N.Y., where she taught English and Algebra. She has also been a case worker in the Onondaga County Social Welfare Department. Mrs. Allen and her husband Ethan are the grandparents of Melissa, age one and one half. Their son Robert, married the former Linda Scandaristo of Highland.

Mrs. Allen is a graduate of Mount Holyoke College, she has a Master's Degree from State University at Albany. She is also active in church related activities, clubs and hobbies. To cite a few of her achievements: she is president of the Episcopal Women's Organization, Church of the Ascension in West Park, as well as an active member of PEO Sisterhood, Delta Kappa Gamma, (the honorary society for women in education), the NEA, HTA, N.Y. State Personnel and Guidance Association, Board of Directors for the Ulster County Mental Health Association and numerous other organizations. When asked what she planned to do during her retirement, she answered "Play!" She will be taking "many happy memories" with her from Highland High and she hopes that those who wish to keep in contact with her would feel free to do so.

An elementary teacher, Mrs. Gertrude Gaffney, leaves a host of students who, since 1949, the year she came to Highland, derived benefit from her talents and her wit. She personifies the typical "kind, motherly, understanding" teacher that has been the backbone of American Education. Before joining Highland, Mrs. Gaffney taught in a number of area schools. She received her formal education at State University at Oneonta and New Paltz. Third, fourth and sixth grades have been her specialty. She is now leaving a third grade. Mrs. Gaffney plans to do in her retirement all those things she hasn't had time for in the past. She too, is active in church organizations: St. Joseph's Women's Guild in New Paltz and St. Joseph's Parish Council, of which she is the secretary. She can "honestly say" she has enjoyed all the years working with the youth of Highland.

Teacher, reading specialist and author, Mrs. Edythe Deitz left the Highland school system in February. She and her husband Harold have three grandchildren, the children of her daughter Gail Wurzler. They also have a son James, who was quite a famous trumpeter while a member of the Highland Band and who now resides in Birmingham, Ala. Mrs. Deitz joined the Highland faculty in 1955. She had previously taught in Berne-Knox, Albany County. In all, she has had 32 years of teaching experience. Her specialty has been Reading and Education. She is an active participant in many organizations; both professional and social. A past president of the second Supervisory District of the Albany PTA, a member of the NYS House of Delegates for three years, she is now Superintendent of Sunday School for the United Methodist Church of Highland. Her future plans include travel to the Canadian Rockies and she hopes to write educational and inspirational articles.

Very well received was her booklet, Cure in a Capsule for Phonetics Pain, published in 1967. Mrs. Deitz is involved in many hobbies, she is particularly fond of her antique bottle collection of more than 100 bottles. Her major goal in her retirement is to keep in touch with her many friends in Highland.

AMERICAN

Catholic Mason? Possible, But . . .

By ABIGAIL VAN BUREN

© 1973 by Chicago Tribune
N.Y. News Synd., Inc.

DEAR ABBY: My husband and I are both Catholics. My husband wants to join the Masonic Order. I say the Masons will not take a Catholic. My husband says they will. If he is right and joins the Masons, I say if the Catholic church finds out about it they will kick him out, and he won't be able to receive communion with his family, and when he dies they won't give him the last rites.

Something else that I never could understand: Why can't a Catholic be a Mason, too?

IN THE DARK
DEAR IN: The Masons WILL accept Catholics, but a Catholic who joins the Masons forfeits his right to receive the sacraments, and he will be canonically excommunicated from the Catholic church. (You can't "kick" a Catholic out of the church — he can attend church if he wants to, but he can't receive the sacraments.)

The Catholics view Masonry as a formal religion, and one cannot be a Catholic and a Mason for the same reason that one cannot be a Catholic and a Lutheran or a Catholic and a Mohammedan at the same time.

DEAR ABBY: I am now a grown man, but when I was a child my parents never forced me to eat anything I didn't like, and I never suffered from it. I now tend to follow the approach with my own children. I have divorced and remarried, and my present wife and I have my children from my previous marriage for many weekends and most of the summer.

We get along fine, except at mealtime. My wife feels that children should be made to eat food they don't like, on the theory that it is good for them, and they will grow to like it. The children have made an honest effort to try certain foods which don't appeal to them, but they simply don't like certain things. My wife tends to prepare at least one thing at every meal that the children don't like, and it is a constant hassle at mealtime.

We have agreed to let you arbitrate and will abide by your decision.

FATHER
DEAR FATHER: Angry arguments at mealtime are bad for the digestion. I vote for a compromise. If the kids are too picky and don't like too many things, for nutrition's sake, bear down. But don't force food on them just to prove your wife's authority over them. That's not fair.

DEAR ABBY: I've been putting this off for so many years I am ashamed of myself, but now I must do something about it.

When I was very young I had an illegitimate daughter. When she was 2, I married a fine man, and we had three children of our own. All four children think my husband is their father.

My husband never legally adopted my first child. She just used his last name, and it has gone on like that ever since.

This first daughter is now 44 years old, and one day in order to get old age benefits she will have to have a birth certificate. I seem to recall that when she was an infant I destroyed it for fear she (or someone else) would find it.

I don't want her to know the circumstances of her birth, but I think I am cornered. Can you help me?

TROUBLED MIND
DEAR TROUBLED: The laws vary in different states. Talk to a lawyer. He may be able to help you get another birth certificate without disclosing the facts. It's worth a try.

CONFIDENTIAL TO "TELL ME THE TRUTH IN MILFORD, N.J.": Some women in slacks should not turn their backs. You are one.

Problems? You'll feel better if you get it off your chest. For a personal reply, write to ABBY: Box No. 69700, L.A., Calif. 90069. Enclose stamped, self-addressed envelope, please.

For Abby's new booklet, "What Teen-Agers Want to Know," send $1 to Abby, Box 69700, Los Angeles, Cal. 90069.

Look Here Mrs. Homemaker BUYING A VACUUM CLEANER

Buying a new vacuum cleaner would be simple if manufacturers rated the cleaning ability of their models in some meaningful way. But since horsepower, revolutions per minute, sealed suction, etc. tell the non-technical person very little about how well a particular model cleans, you will need to measure its ability by observing its performance, says Phyllis W. Barlow, Extension Home Economist.

CLEANING ABILITY — Operate the cleaner yourself to be sure it meets your needs. If possible, get a home demonstration. See how well the cleaner works on your rugs and floors and areas above the floor. The best material to use for testing a cleaner's efficiency is granular material like sand or salt. After the cleaner is run over this kind of material, check below the rug pile to see that the material has been picked up, not just pushed down.

THE DUST BAG — The dust bag capacity should be large. The larger the capacity, the less frequently you will have to empty or change the bag. Dust bags should be large also to maintain an adequate filter area for air as the bag fills with dirt. When you consider a cleaner, compare dust bag sizes among various models. The salesman or the owner's manual should give you the capacities of the bags.

NOISE — If you get a home demonstration, you will be able to judge the level of noise in which you will be working. If you are limited to a store demonstration, ask the salesman to operate the cleaner in a stock room or a small closed off area before you buy the cleaner. In this way, you can get an approximation of the noise level you will be working with in your home.

EASE OF OPERATION — Before you buy any cleaner, use it yourself to see if you feel comfortable with the machine. In the upright types, consider the weight and length of the handle. In the canister tank types, consider the ease of movement. In both types, consider the convenience of operating latches and switches.

SAFETY — Electrical safety is an important consideration when selecting a cleaner. In the absence of any safety seal of approval, check with the dealer to see if the cleaner has been tested by a nationally recognized laboratory.

Unless the cleaner is advertised for wet pick-up, it should never be used to pick up water, nor should it be used outside on patio carpet even if the carpet looks dry. Moisture can cause a dangerous short circuit.

FEATURES — Features such as a full bag indicator, automatic cord reel, and a regulator for high and low suction are available on some models. Selection here is a matter of personal preference: Is the added feature worth the extra cost? Convenience features do not necessarily add to the quality of the cleaner.

GUARANTEE AND SERVICE — Read the guarantee. Most cleaners have a guarantee of one year on parts and labor. Check to see if some parts are guaranteed for less time. Remember that unauthorized servicing or unauthorized replacement of parts may void your guarantee.

Democratic Women Hear Thomas Lyle On Referendum

The Ulster County Women's Democratic Club met for its regular monthly meeting on Tuesday, May 22.

Thomas R. Lyle, candidate for Democratic County Chairman, was guest speaker. Stressing the need for party unity and cooperation, Mr. Lyle cited the success this attitude has created within the City of Kingston. If elected, it is his hope to increase the strength of the Democratic Party throughout Ulster County by fostering such an outlook among those with Democratic principles, he stated.

Touching on the Special Referendum for Reapportionment to be held in the City of Kingston on June 19, Mr. Lyle urged those present to encourage their friends to vote. Explaining that this plan was based on current census figures and will affect the voters of Kingston for the next 10 years, he said such a consolidation of the wards would be to the benefit of the city at large and consequently to each individual citizen, in that proportionate representation will be as accurately manifested as is possible.

SWEET ADELINES — The Colonial City Chapter of Sweet Adelines installed a slate of officers this month. They include (L-R) Jean Lehman, treasurer; Lyn Ross, recording secretary; Bonnie Langston, president; Kitty White, corresponding secretary; and Ruth Martin, vice president. Anne Rick was installations officer with Pat Brecke assisting.

Weekly meetings of Sweet Adelines are held every Tuesday at 8 p. m. in the St. James United Methodist Church, Fair Street, Kingston. New members are always welcome. Detailed information about the organization may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Brecke in Woodstock. (Freeman photo by Haines)

Elizabeth Post: Doing the Right Thing

By ELIZABETH L. POST
(c) 1973 Emily Post Institute, Inc.)

Today's prize winner in my Courtesy Campaign is Mrs. Eunice Roby of Newton Falls, Ohio. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has been awarded her for her letter describing the courtesy extended to her in a severe snow storm. A copy of Emily Post's Etiquette has also been sent to Mr. Norman Muller of Leavittsburg, Ohio, who performed the act.

Dear Mrs. Post: In a recent very severe snow storm I was stuck in the snow. It was impossible to move my car. This young man made it up to where I was and got out of his car (he did not have boots) and shoveled me out and got me on my way.

I wished to pay him but he would not take anything. He said the only pay he wished was that if I saw someone else in trouble to help them out.

I feel he is deserving of a courtesy button and book.

Eunice Roby

authority in the matter of correct social behavior, render an opinion, the problem could be solved for the bride. With the parents both deceased, we are wondering if the oldest sister couldn't act as the "official hostess" for the bridal reception and, of course, at the church, instead of being a fifty-nine-year-old bridesmaid preceding the bride down the aisle.

Mrs. D.

Dear Mrs. D.: Your friend's older sister should not act as a bridesmaid. She, as the oldest member of the family, should act as "hostess" as you suggest. When women of middle age — or older — marry, they rarely have more than one attendant or witness, although the ceremony and reception may be as traditional and lovely as that of any younger couple in other ways. Bridesmaids, although often married, should still be young "maids."

BY MILTON RICHMAN
UPI Sports Editor

INDIANAPOLIS, Ind. (UPI) — Gordon Johncock, you've undoubtedly heard, is the new King of the Road, and he certainly rates that title the way he drives, but what intrigues me more is the way he thinks.

He thinks they go too fast in the Indianapolis "500," and when he thinks like that, he thinks like so many other people, including me.

Speed at a race track is fine, but it can be overdone. I think they're overdoing it now. The drivers simply cannot handle the tremendous speed in times of crises.

Don't go by my say-so, ask them.

"I'd really like to see them slow the cars down," said Johncock, a 36-year old father of five after his victory Wednesday in a race mercifully cut short to 332.5 miles by rain.

"They're getting too fast," added Johncock, who pushed his Eagle-Offenhauser past 180 miles per hour and whose average speed of 159.014 m.p.h. wasn't far off the record 162.962 set by Mark Donohue in his last year's event.

They asked Gordon Johncock

if perhaps eliminating the "wings" on the back of the cars might help.

These wings, or stabilizers, are designed to produce downward draft pressure and keep the car wheels closer to the track.

Johncock said he wasn't talking so much about them as he was engines with their tremendous horsepower.

"If they take the horsepower away from the engine, the wings would take care of themselves," he said.

Johncock was subdued after the race.

He produced a smile for photographers after being three when Savage went into the wall coming out of turn beauty queen and taking a few sips of the traditional bottle of milk, but with it all, he was more solemn than anything else. That's not so hard to understand.

Even as he was being hailed for outlasting everybody else in the original 33 man field—only 10 drivers besides him finished—one of his team members, fellow drive Swede Savage, was lying in critical condition at nearby Methodist Hospital as a result of the blood-chilling crackup that turned the track into a veritable inferno.

Johncock was running in turn

There was an accompanying tragedy Johncock wasn't even aware of and it involved another member of the team.

His name was Armando Teran, he was a pit crewman for Graham McRae, the third driver on the Johncock-Savage team and he was a light-hearted 22-year old who loved racing and whose job it was to hold the board and signal McRae how well or poorly he was doing.

When Savage's car went up in flames, Teran moved across the pit so he could get a better view of the holocaust up the track.

At precisely the same time an emergency fire truck, rushing toward the flames, soed through the pits and hit the unfortunate Teran, hurdling him almost 50 feet in full view of the center terrace spectators, many of whom groaned audibly watching the horrible spectacle unfold directly in front of them.

Johncock never saw that, nor did he know Teran died in the hospital a little more than an hour later. But he did see enough to know that his buddy, Swede Savage was in trouble. Deep trouble.

"I felt like quitting right there and then," said Gordon Johncock. "I didn't feel too much like racing anymore."

Mechanics Accomplish Miracle Work Overnight

INDIANAPOLIS (AP) — It can take days to repair a production line domestic car, while Indianapolis 500 mechanics can rebuild an exotic $75,000 racing machine overnight.

It takes a fat bankroll and bands of mechanics—or a shoe-string budget and lots of good will.

Two cases in point were the battered and blistered machines of Mike Hiss of Tustin, Calif., and John Martin of Long "Salt" Walther's car in the ill-fated first lap.

Hiss' Eagle-Offenhauser and Martin's McLaren-Offy were reworked that night and pronounced ready to race the next day. Both men still thought they could win.

"You got to get it done," said Bill Petrie, a mechanic for Hiss. "But it takes six guys with plenty of parts and 12 hours without sleep."

Hiss had the money and manpower to repair his richly endowed Thermo King Special with parts for three cars. He has another assembled car for parts, two spare engines and boxes of miscellaneous springs and brackets.

He has $500 in measuring tools alone and a machine shop to make the parts he doesn't have. He can refiberglass his car's wings.

Six Hiss mechanics swarmed over the car from 6 p.m. Monday to 6 p.m. Tuesday to rebuild the right suspension mount, repair fuel tank panels and replace the mangled front wing and melted blue fiberglass nose of the sleek blue car.

Martin, the only unsponsored driver, didn't have the money, manpower or parts to repair his displaced front suspension and bulkhead.

He has only one complete engine, and that's in the car. He has a 1969 Brabham for cannibalized engine and gear box parts. He doesn't have a sophisticated machine shop or full-time mechanical crew.

Ted Swiontek, Martin's chief mechanic for six months of the year, said, "As usual, we do things very conservatively."

But help poured in, and Martin was deluged with offers of volunteer mechanics, free parts and machine shops.

Roy Woods' Carling Black Label team towed a spare black McLaren to the Martin garage for any and all parts.

Mechanics from various teams offered their services. Jim Hurtubise, a former Indianapolis 500 driver, donated use of his machine shop in Indianapolis where the crew rebuilt the nose and air foils.

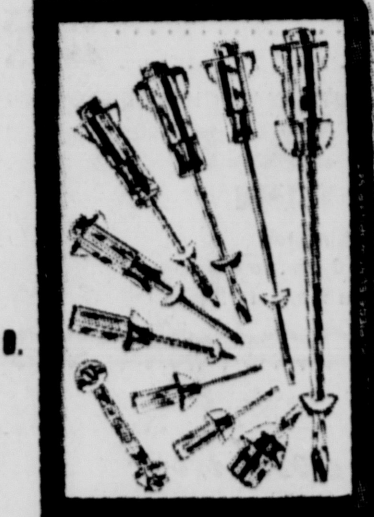

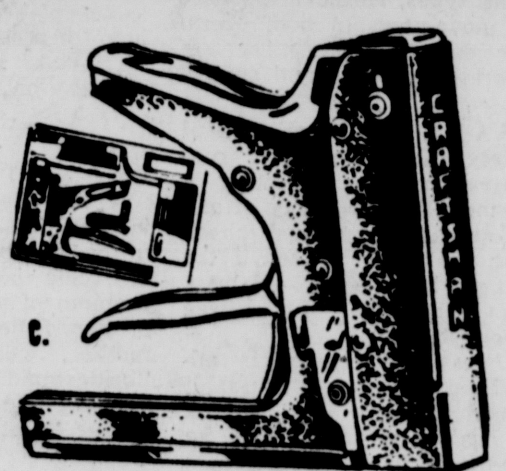

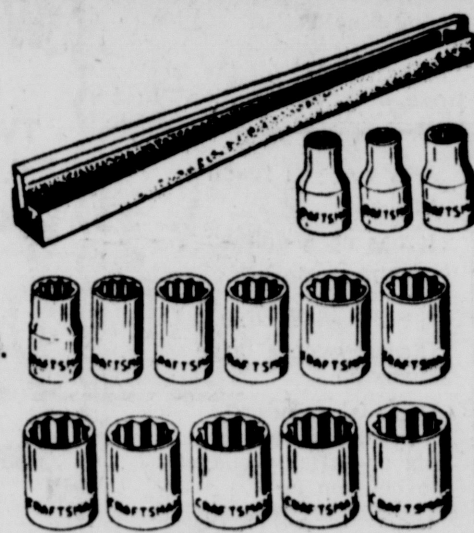

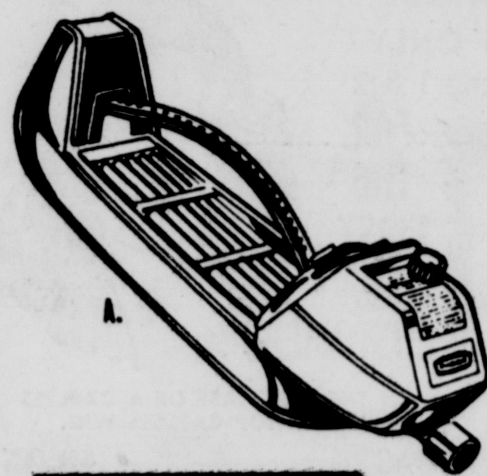

The Baer machine shop in Indianapolis helped Martin set his suspension and realign the wheels.

When the aborted race was completed Wednesday, neither Hiss nor Martin won, but Martin finished a surprising eighth, completing 125 of the 133 laps, while Hiss was 16th, covering 91 laps before dropping out with a broken valve.

That DeBusschere: Always the Youngest

NEW YORK (UPI) — "I'm here today to announce I've accepted the Philadelphia coaching job," cracked Dave DeBusschere, who had just been named general manager of New York Nets of the American Basketball association beginning June 1, 1974.

DeBusschere, perennial all star forward of the crosstown world champion New York Knicks of the rival NBA, was making a reference to Kevin Loughery, the man the Nets "swiped" as their coach from the NBA Philadelphia 76ers two months earlier.

"But seriously, I'm very confident I can handle this job," said DeBusschere who signed a long term contract Wednesday calling for $75,000 per year. "I feel I know the game of basketball well and I wanted to stay in it. I accepted the Nets' offer because I knew the Knicks would not offer anything similar."

The 32-year old DeBusschere, who was once the youngest coach in NBA history (with the Detroit Pistons 1964-67) and who will be one of the youngest general managers in history, said he wanted to play one more year because "it would have been eating away at me not to play when I knew I could still have another good year."

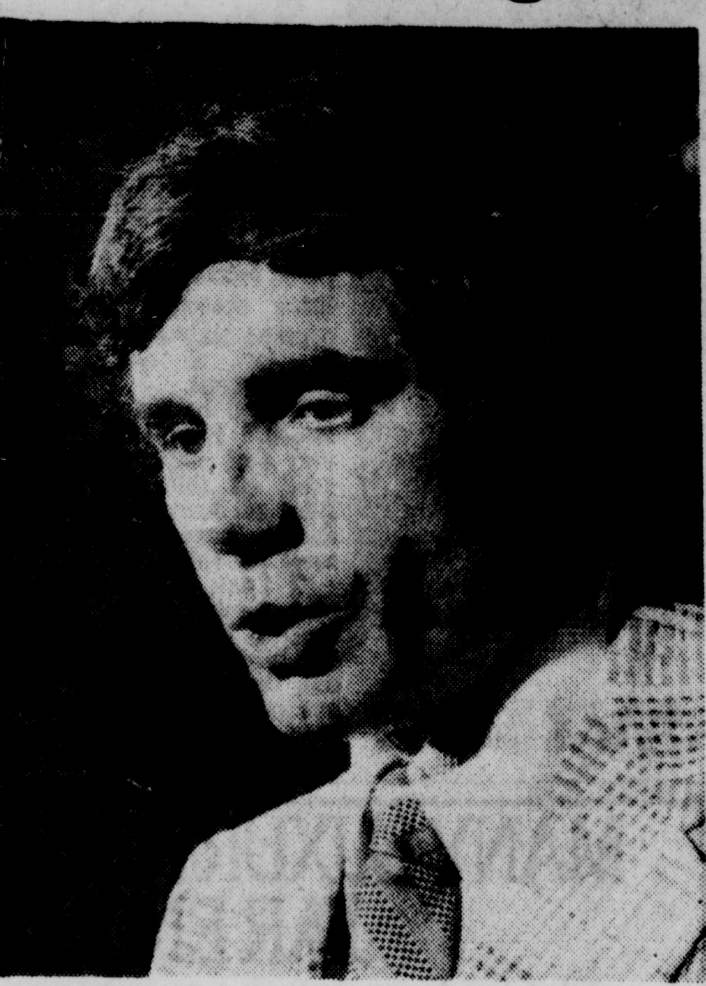

"I feel the Knicks have a good shot at repeating as champions next year and I want to be a part of that," he said. "I know I can play well one more year and then it'll be nice to quit while I'm still on top. That's the way it should be."

The naming of DeBusschere completes the Nets' front office void, created when Lou Carnesecca resigned as general manager-coach after last season to return to his alma mater, St. John's. DeBusschere admitted he had been consulted on the selection of Loughery as coach.

"I approved Kevin's selection," he said, "but I had nothing to do with the negotiations."

DeBusschere, a seven-time NBA All Star, has a lifetime 15.8 scoring average and has been an All-Defensive selection each of the last five years. Before devoting his full-time interest to basketball, he also had a brief stint as a pitcher with the Chicago White Sox in 1962 and 1963.

In 1968 in a key trade which the Knicks sent guard Howard Komives and center Walt Bellamy to the Pistons for DeBusschere, who went on to lead the Knicks to the NBA title in 1969 and played a major role in this past year's championship club, averaging 16.3 points per game.

MAN WHO SWITCHED: Dave DeBusschere, all-star forward of the New York Knicks was named in a press conference Wednesday General Manager of the New York Nets effective June 1, 1974, for a long term contract estimated at $75,000 a year. At 24 in 1964, he became the youngest coach in National Basketball history when he was named to run the Detroit Pistons. (UPI)

Kathy Favored In Sealy Golf

LAS VEGAS, Nev. (UPI) — with a foot injury but three other Texans, the defending Classic opens today with Kathy Whitworth, the leading scorer and money winner on the Ladies Professional Golf Association tour, the solid favorite of both the oddsmakers and her competitors to win first prize of $25,000.

In addition to the cash, the winner also gets a $6,000 car to make this tournament the richest on the ladies tour. The sunbaked Desert Inn fairways and greens were in good shape and should play fast in temperatures close to 100 degrees with little wind.

Fifty six women entered in the 72-hole contest. The final round Sunday will be broadcast on national television. Miss Whitworth, a 33-year-old Texan, has won $40,762 this year and has career earnings of $446,216.

Brock's Bat Paces Cards' Comeback

By FRED DOWN
UPI Sports Writer

Well, the St. Louis Cardinals got off to a 3-15 start this season and, obviously, were going nowhere. Now they've won eight straight and 11 of their last 12 games and the "hot hitter" in their batting order is Lou Brock.

Brock ignited a three-run eighth inning rally with a run-scoring single, his third hit. Wednesday night, when the Cardinals beat the Cincinnati Reds, 5-2. He has 13 hits in 34 at-bats for a .382 average during the Cardinals' streak.

Los Angeles downed Philadelphia, 9-4. Pittsburgh defeated Atlanta, 4-2. San Francisco beat New York, 3-2. Houston topped Chicago, 4-1, and San Diego won, 3-2, after losing to Montreal, 5-3, in the first game of a doubleheader.

American League scores were: Texas 3, Cleveland 2, Baltimore 5, Kansas City 4, Detroit 8, Chicago 3, Minnesota 4, Milwaukee 6, New York 4, Oakland 3, and Boston 2, California 1.

Brock's single snapped a 2-2 tie and the Cardinals added two more runs after he stole second on Ted Sizemore's single to give Rich Fulkers his first win of the season. Tony Perez and Dave Concepcion homered for the Reds while Jose Cruz connected for the Cardinals.

Bill Russell drove in four runs with a double and three singles and Willie Crawford and Ron Cey had three hits each, pacing an 18-hit Dodger attack which brought Claude Osteen to his fifth win. Steve Carlton, a 27-game winner last season, was rapped for 13 hits and issued five walks in five innings to suffer his seventh loss against five wins.

Bob Moose pitched an eight-inning shutout for the Pirates, who broke a 2-2 tie in the sixth on Jackie Hernandez's single. The situation was forced when Al Oliver opened the sixth with a single and stole second before Milt May was intentionally walked. Ron Reed lost his sixth game against two wins for the Braves.

Roger Metzger's first major league homer and John Edwards' fourth of the season led the Astros to their win over the Cubs and gave Ken Forsch his fifth triumph. Both blows were off Milt Pappas, who suffered his fourth loss against two wins.

Mike Marshall earned his sixth save with 2 1-3 innings of shutout relief pitching for the Expos in their opener in San Diego but served a three-run homer to John Grubb in the second game. Marshall had scored three victories and been credited with two saves in the Expos' previous five triumphs but was called upon once too much.

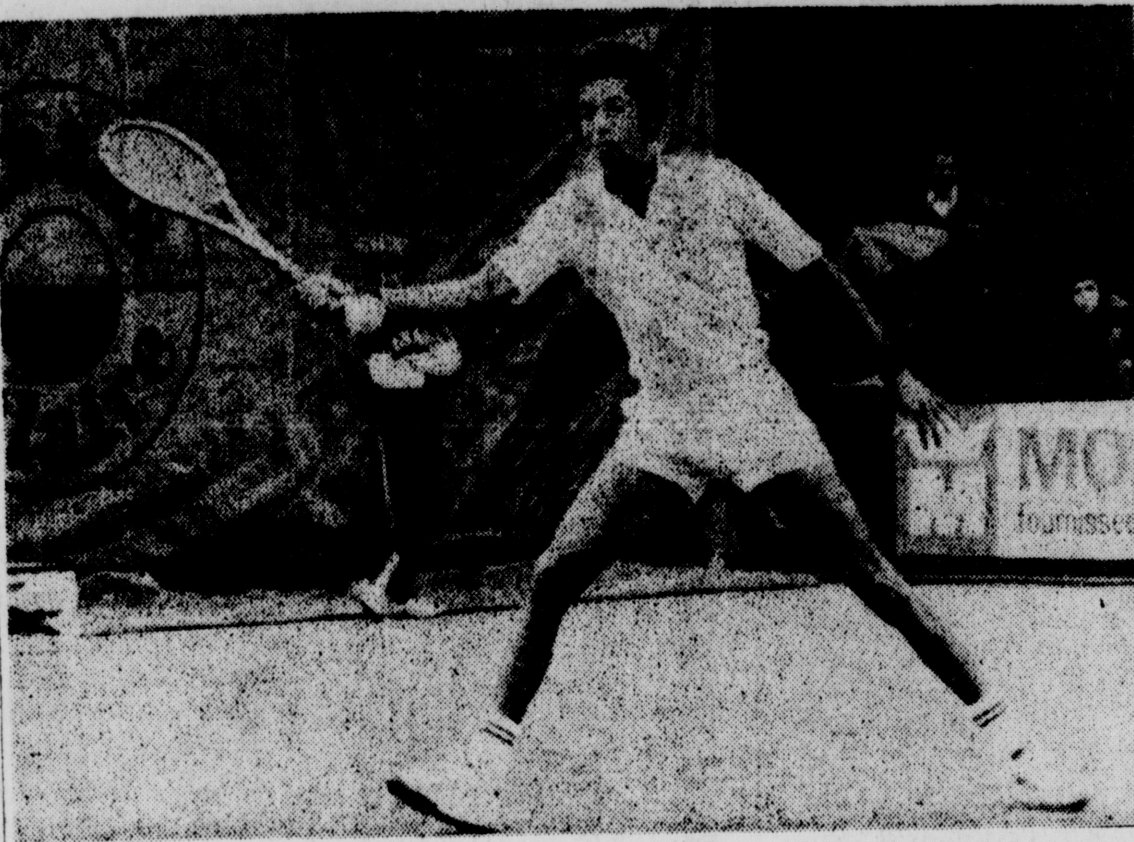

In the American League, right fielder Dwight Evans, batting ninth, singled and scored Boston's first run in the third inning and then cracked a game-winning homer in the eighth to help the Boston Red Sox beat the California Angels, 2-1. In the ninth inning, Evans saved the Sox with a leaping catch of a line drive to rob Mike Epstein of a two-run homer in the ninth inning.

Bobby Darwin's three-run homer and the four-hit pitching of Bill Hands powered Minnesota past Milwaukee, the second straight shutout for the Twins who blanked the Brewers, 1-0. Tuesday night on a homer by Darwin, Hands allowed only one Brewer to reach third base as he gave up four singles, walked two and fanned four in posting his fifth win against four defeats.

Aurelio Rodriguez drove in three runs with a single and two-run homer and Jim Northrup collected two doubles and a single to back the seven-hit pitching of Mickey Lolich as the Tigers beat Chicago, 6-1. Melton slugged his 10th homer for Chicago.

Baltimore rookie Rich Coggins drove in two runs and scored another, enabling lefty Dave McNally to snap a personal six-game losing streak at the expense of Kansas City. McNally needed relief help from Eddie Watt and Bob Reynolds before nailing down his fourth victory against six losses.

Dave Nelson singled home pinch-runner Joe Lovitto from second base with one out in the ninth inning to help Texas past Cleveland and give Pete Broberg his first victory in nearly a year. Gaylord Perry, last year's American League Cy Young Award winner, saw his record drop to 6-5.

IN ROUND OF 16: American Arthur Ashe, in action to reach the last 16 in the men's singles of the French Open Tennis Championships with a 7-6, 6-2, 6-7, 6-4 win against fellow American Harold Solomon Wednesday in Paris. (UPI)

Bjorn Borg: Confident Lad

PARIS (UPI) — Sweden's 16-year-old tennis star, Bjorn Borg, took his string of three upset wins into the fourth round of the $150,000 French Open tournament today with his toughest match yet.

Borg, who has amazed the crowds during the rain-hampered tourney with his defeat of three seasoned professionals, opposed Italy's Adriano Panatta for a berth in the quarterfinals.

"It will be my most difficult match," Borg said. "He is a very good player and especially good on this clay surface." Borg sat around as a day-long drizzle forced cancellation of most matches.

"I think I can win," Borg said in his firm, soft tone. Coming from another 16-year-old it might seem presumptuous, especially since Panatta has proved himself one of the most convincing hitters seen in the Roland Garros center court.

But Borg has earned the right to speak. He pumped life and spectator interest into the week of play by successively downing a Frenchman and two Americans, one of them ninth-seeded Cliff Richey of San Angelo, Tex.

Top-seeded Stan Smith, of Sea Pines, S.C., faced Holland's Tom Okker to earn his quarterfinal slot. If he wins, the tall, mustachioed Smith will come up against the winner of the Borg-Panatta contest.

If the rains stay away, a veteran Frank Froehling, who gave up selling stocks to go back on the tour, may fit in a match with Yugoslavia's Nikki Pilic for a fifth-round berth. Froehling is from Miami.

Another American, Arthur Ashe of Gum Spring, Va., stroked his way into the fourth round Wednesday in one of the few matches held in spite of the drizzle. He beat Harold Solomon, 7-6, 6-4, 6-4.

Sawyers Edge Coleman To Complete 14-2 Season

SAUGERTIES — Saving the best for last, Saugerties High School's tennis team won the three doubles matches here Wednesday to come from behind and beat Coleman, 4-3, in the season finale for both squads.

Rich Rumble and Duane Jones started the Sawyer comeback when the duo topped downed Jim Kocsis and Bill Knott, 8-5. Coleman had taken a 3-1 lead after the singles matches. Farrell opened the day with an 8-4 win over Ferrono of Saugerties. Tirsch evened matters when he beat Bock, 8-5, but Coleman moved back in front after Lyle stopped Swart, 9-7, and Rayn defeated Craig Vogel, 9-7.

Sawyer coach Jack Welton went with his seniors in the singles rather than his regulars since it was the final match of the year.

The Saugerties club completed an excellent season with a 14-2 record. Coleman was 3-8.

San Francisco (UPI) — New York Mets outfielder Cleon Jones was fitted with a cast on his right wrist Wednesday and probably will be placed on the disabled list.

Jones hurt his wrist April 19 in the ninth inning of the first game of a doubleheader against the Chicago Cubs while diving for a ball hit by Glenn Beckert. He has been used sparingly ever since and Mets club physician Dr. Richard Eaton decided Wednesday to immobilize the wrist to spur the hearing process.

MANY LUXURY CARS DON'T GO FAR ENOUGH.

All of them have power steering and power brakes as standard. But you have to pay extra for air conditioning and radial tires on some. Others make you pay extra to sit on leather.

Most don't even offer fuel injection or four-wheel power-assisted disc brakes.

The Volvo 164E offers all the above as standard.

So does one other popular imported car. But it goes for around $14,000. And that's going too far.

Coleman Tops Ellenville

Rondout Drops
Liberty to Second

LIBERTY Rondout Valley broke up the deadlock for first place in the Northern Division of the Ulster County Athletic League Wednesday as Billy Wilkins scattered four Liberty hits, and the Ganders took a 5-1 victory here to drop the Indians a half game behind Wallkill.

In the schedule's only other contest, Coleman High outthrust Ellenville, winning 7-4 on Kevin Voughlin's three-hitter.

Hitting has been Liberty's strong suit to date, and power had the Indians carrying a 6-2 record into the game against Rondout. Wilkins, however, was more than a match for the home team's bats. Pitching his second consecutive complete game victory, the little fireballer fanned 11 while walking only one and was touched for a solo run in the fifth.

Rondout struck quickly on Liberty starter Jerry Altbach when Brian McCann opened the second by lining his first of two hits sharply to left. Jeff Purcell and Joe McCall then slapped back-to-back grounders to short, but Mario Berry booted them both to put runners on first and third and allow McCall to score the game's first run.

But Altbach wasn't out of it yet. Jeff Mahoney's infield out chased Purcell across to make it 2-0, then McCall scored as Dan Shaver forced Mahoney at second. Tim Rein made it a four-run lead by singling home Shaver before the inning ended.

McCann cracked his second hit in the next frame and scored again on singles by Purcell and McCall. Liberty could only spoil the shutout in the fifth on Phil Fanning's single and a run-scoring double by Berry.

Three hits, three walks and one Ellenville error produced four Coleman runs in the fifth inning that locked up the game for the Statesmen. The winners had jumped ahead by two runs in the first frame as Coughlin blanked the Ellies for six innings.

Dan Mahoney and Phil Timbrook led off the attack in the fifth on starter Dave Stanton.

Both singled and Joel Sickler followed with a walk to load the bases. Chris Bentley hit safely to force in one run, then Ed Mathieu and Vince Schell each collected RBI's on a pair of walks. Mathieu later scored with the fourth run on first baseman Gary Wilhelm's error.

Ellenville erupted for four runs in the top of the seventh, but all that did was get Stanton off the hook and hand the loss to reliever Lou Wright. Wright's two-run double was big blow in the Ellies' final gasp.

Coughlin had 10 walks and 10 whiffs in pushing the Statesmen record to 3-5. The win boosted them ahead of the Ellies in the Southern standings by half a game.

The leaders in the Southern Division will square off today to highlight a four-game schedule. Marlboro and Red Hook, each carrying 6-2 records, will meet at Hudson River State Hospital to decide the championship.

Other games on the card include a Wallkill-Liberty battle where the Panthers could wrap it up or the Indians could salvage another tie. Onteora is at Rondout and Highland visits Ellenville in other games.

Golf Title

NEW PALTZ Coleman High School's golf team took the next to the last step enroute to a UCAI championship here Wednesday when it defeated New Paltz, 176-208, at Locust Tree.

The win enabled the Statesmen to clinch at least a tie for the title which they are expected to wrap up Friday when they face lowly Red Hook.

Elsewhere in the UCAI Wednesday, Liberty upended Onteora, 172-195. It the DCSL, Kingston and Poughkeepsie finished the regular season tied for first place in the North as the Maroons topped Lourdes, 166-183, and the Pioneers downed Rhinebeck.

Coleman's A. J. Maneen turned in a fine 37 on Locust Tree's difficult layout, made tougher by wind and rain. Mike Dulin shot 42, Tony Maneen 48, and Steve Dulin 49 for the Statesmen, 12-2, 11-2 in the league.

Gary Siegel led New Paltz with 51. Jeff Mackey shot 52, while Earl Harp and Kurt the Pioneers to a 2-1 DCSL victory.

Both pitchers went all the way with Catanzaro getting an early advantage off Bob Relyea's RBI hit in the first inning. Saugerties bounced back to tie it up in the fourth as Dave Fuller blooped a single to right, scoring Jim Myers.

MAHOPAC Mahopac High scored seven runs in the third inning and went on to trounce Kingston High, 11-7, in the opening round of the Section One girls varsity softball playoffs.

Kingston had completed its season with an 8-3 record, while Mahopac's 6-1 mark was good enough for second place in the Upper Westchester-Putnam League.

Kingston out hit Mahopac, 13-11, but two of the Mahopac hits were homers by Mary Ryan and Diane Tompkins, who shared six RBI's between them.

Judy McInnis, the winning pitcher, helped her own cause with a triple and single. Peggy Stern, Debbie DeMasi and Mary Berney had two hits apiece for Mahopac.

Dan Brown had two hits and Art Shelighner drove in a pair of runs, but Kingston High School's junior varsity baseball team still fell victim to Ketcham, 4-2, Wednesday.

Paul Diamanti was the winner for the Indians. Joe Primo took the defeat.

Kingston meets Roosevelt today and Newburgh on Friday.

Dodge Sportsman
Wagon
(America's Number 1 best seller!)

"Getting there" doesn't have to be cramped or bumpy. Not in a Dodge Sportsman wagon or one of our Dodge Camper Special pickups! We offer over 45 different Sportsman wagon models—including several Maxiwagon models that carry up to 15 passengers. (Dodge Maxis are the largest compact wagons built in America.)

A Dodge Camper Special pickup gives you the best of both worlds: a hardworking business partner or around-town hauler during the week and (with camper unit installed) your home on the road on weekends or extended vacations.

And both our wagon and pickup give you Electronic Ignition, front disc brakes* and independent front suspension* standard.

Your fun starts when you start out in your Dodge wagon or camper. Check our deals right now.

We make fun a lot easier!

Jack Nicklaus: Tour by Himself

ATLANTA (UPI) — Ask the pro golfers; they'll tell you there are three PGA tours these days: the regular tour, the "mini" tour, and Jack Nicklaus.

"The guy is in a class by himself," muttered Doug Sanders after playing two rounds with Nicklaus in last week's Atlanta Classic, rounds in which Jack shot 67-66 despite rain, wind and hills.

"Jack Tuthill and Joe Dey (the men who run the PGA tour) ought to give the rest of us a stroke or two," said Tom Weiskopf, who was 10 strokes behind Nicklaus at one point last week and still in second place.

How would it be if they handicapped golfers like horses and hung weights on Nicklaus? "A lot of good that would do," retorted Sanders. "Put a 10-pound sack on that guy's back and he'd still break par."

His opponents generally agree that Jack Nicklaus is the best golfer in the world today and possibly the best ever.

Nicklaus has the record to support that claim. Now in his 12th year as a tour pro, he has won 48 U. S. titles plus two British Opens and sundry other foreign outings. He's now $300,000 ahead of Arnold Palmer in the race to become the first man to win more than $2 million—and that's just PGA earnings, the rest doesn't count.

All that's just for starters. Just about everybody, and that includes Nicklaus himself, feels that since he is only 33 years old, that Nicklaus has not yet reached his peak.

"My game does appear to be improving," Nicklaus said. "I'm learning something new every time I go out on the course. Yes, I feel I'm a better golfer now than I was 10 or even five years ago and I don't know of any reason why this improvement shouldn't continue."

"Jack's really got us over a barrel," complained one pro. "Not only is he the best, he's able to pick and choose his tournaments and point for the ones he wants to win."

"Most of us have to scratch for a living out here on the tour, play just about every week whether we like it or not. There's no way we can gear our game for any particular tournament like he does."

That's one of the big reasons Jack Nicklaus is picked to win this year's U. S. Open at Oakmont, Pa., and break his tie with the late Bobby Jones for the most "major" titles.

Nicklaus has 13 of those at present—four Masters, three Opens, two PGA's, two British Opens and two U. S. Amateurs. Nicklaus, who has long set his sights on that goal—winning more "major" crowns than any other golfer, isn't playing in this week's Kemper Open at Charlotte, N. C., but he'll be in the Philadelphia Classic next week.

"Normally, I don't like to play the week before a big tournament like the Open," Nicklaus said. "But conditions at Philadelphia are so similar to those at Oakmont that I figure that's my best way to get ready for the Open."

Nicklaus not only plays golf better than anyone else, he's one of the game's more learned students. He points out that the grass at Philadelphia is the same as at Oakmont and different from the grass on which the touring pros have been playing.

He complained, while winning the Atlanta Classic with 16-under-par golf, that he didn't get a chance to practice sand and bunker shots.

"I played about as well as I can play in Atlanta, especially in the first three rounds," said Nicklaus. "But, there are some things I need to work on to get ready for the Open, some shots I didn't get to use in Atlanta."

Skyride at Hunter

HUNTER and weekends again through the fall foliage season.

The mile-long ride to the summit of the Colonel's Chair, a 3,200-foot-above-sea-level mountain, has been a popular tourist attraction for the past ten seasons. The Catskills' longest and highest chairlift offers a panoramic view of the Great Northeast.

At the summit, the new "Castle in the Clouds" summit lodge will again be open and its cafeteria, lounge areas and restrooms, and again this year the popular buffet cookout packages will be available. Free use of picnic tables and charcoal grills will again be offered.

Operating hours for the Hunter Skyride will be from 10:30 a.m. to 4:30 p.m., which affords a full day's excursion on the Mountain Top to bird-watchers, hikers and picnickers.

The Hunter Mountain Base Lodge will also remain open on a daily basis with its cafeteria, gift shop, bar and lounges.

Nearby, there are championship golf courses, horseback riding, ponds, lakes, streams, farms.

Mid-Hudson Kennel Show

RHINEBECK The show will also feature the Hudson Valley Weimaraner Club Specialty Show for the second straight year. And for the first time, the Scottish Deerhound Club of America will hold its specialty in conjunction with the Mid-Hudson event.

Closing date for entries is June 6. Further information may be obtained by contacting Mrs. Rhoda Goldstein, Rt. 9G Hyde Park, or Mrs. John Darrow, Spring Road, Poughkeepsie.

wants you to know about their Lifetime Muffler

Made by the World's Largest Manufacturer of Mufflers & exhaust systems longer life... "Double coated"

DELUXE MUFFLERS

Deluxe Mufflers... engineered and made for long quiet life. They are for owners who want the best. Rust and acid corrosion attacks mufflers from the inside as well as from the outside so Deluxe Mufflers have a heavy rust resistant zinc or aluminum coating on both the inside and outside surface. Another long life feature is the double-crippled lock seam all around the shell. This muffler does its job so well it's called "the quiet one."

CONSTRUCTION FEATURES

1. 100% COATED STEELS—All Heads, Shells and Outer Wraps Aluminized or zinc coated.
2. Vibration-Proof UN-BEAM Type Solid and Quiet Tube Construction Supports Eliminate Bouncing and Muttering.
3. DOUBLE-CRIPPLED LOCK-SEAMED Head, Shell and Outer Wrap Assure Positive Seal.
4. SPECIAL CHAMBERS eliminate High-Low Sound Frequencies and Reduce Noise.
5. PRECISELY TUNED End Chambers eliminate Low and Intermediate Frequencies.
6. PATENTED SEAM-WELODED LOWER TUBES are Perforated to Prevent "Whistling."

Deluxe Mufflers are engineered for "Long Life" with back pressure consistent with good silencing.

Your Horoscope

Friday, June 1

GENERAL TENDENCIES: The only benefits to be yours today are those which come without warning and from cooperative persons who have your best interests at heart. A new course of action can easily eliminate a feeling you have of being held down.

ARIES (Mar. 21 to Apr. 19) You have many tasks to perform. Attend to them without delay and be enthusiastic. Show an associate how much you appreciate him. Make sure you can keep any commitments that you make.

TAURUS (Apr. 20 to May 20) Handling financial affairs with care is important now. Try adding to bank account instead of detracting from it. Don't argue with a co-worker over a petty matter. Keep your cool.

GEMINI (May 21 to June 21) If you listen to others more, you can easily gain valuable information. Take time to engage in favorite recreation. Show more devotion to mate and increase harmony. Avoid prejudice.

MOON CHILDREN (June 22 to July 21) Don't let your problems today bother you. Engage in new activities and make your life happier. Don't pamper one who is troubled or you weaken that person. Take it easy tonight.

LEO (July 22 to Aug. 21) Seek the right advice from a good friend and become a more dynamic person. Avoid a person who has an eye on your assets. Think constructively and be more optimistic in your views.

VIRGO (Aug. 22 to Sept. 22) You are able to get the advice and aid of a business expert that you need now. Engaging in a new outlet can add to your present abundance. Find a better way to start an upstart.

LIBRA (Sept. 23 to Oct. 22)

Use that good judgment you need. Do nothing have and be of assistance to of a radical nature. others. The favor will be returned later. Make yourself more attractive by taking health treatments. Dress in good taste.

SCORPIO (Oct. 23 to Nov. 21) Plan a new course of action for the days ahead. Listen to what experts have to suggest. Give a lending hand to those who need your aid. Show admiration to loved one. Be wise.

SAGITTARIUS (Nov. 22 to Dec. 21) Don't go along with what an associate has in mind or you could get into real trouble. A good friend can be most helpful to you now. The social side of life is fine for you tonight.

CAPRICORN (Dec. 22 to Jan. 20) Engage in outside activities instead of staying in regular routine. Meet with influential persons and obtain the data you need. Seek a good friend who can be helpful to you.

AQUARIUS (Jan. 21 to Feb. 19) You are inspired now to gain your finest aims and should take action without delay. A different attitude toward bigwigs gains you the PISCES (Feb. 20 to Mar. 20) Don't permit a situation at home keep you from taking care of routine duties. Show more devotion to mate and get better results. A thoughtful gift is wise. Keep all appointments.

IF YOUR CHILD IS BORN TODAY... he or she will be one of those delightful young people who likes to take responsibility, so be sure to give an opportunity to do just that, otherwise the fine promise here will be limited. There is a stickler for perfection here as well as an inventive genius. Give as much religious training as your progeny needs. Sports are a must. Give as much education as you can afford.

"The Stars impel, they do not compel." What you make of your life is largely up to YOU! Carroll Righter's Individual Forecast for your sign for June is now ready. Timely Quotes

I do not apologize for the content of my earlier criticism, but I freely admit that it could have been stated less abrasively.

—Vice President Spiro Agnew, calling for an end to the hostility between him and the press.

A clerk is like a nail with no head. You stick him in somewhere and then there's no way to pull him out.

—Israeli Premier Golda Meir, on bureaucrats.

President Nixon is being tried, sentenced and executed by rumor and allegation (about Watergate). As the senator who succeeded Joe McCarthy in the United States Senate, I find this kind of persecution and condemnation without trial McCarthyism at its worst.

—Sen. William Proxmire, D-Wis.

No doubt the day will come when oil will be used as a weapon by the Arabs in the Middle East.

—President Muammar Khadafy of Libya, as four Arab nations stopped pumping oil briefly in a gesture of support of the struggle against Israel.

Over the 35 years I've known Washington, we've passed from the age of the common man to the age of the common crook.

—John Kenneth Galbraith, economist and former ambassador to India.

Just figured our lawn care bill. Next season we'll mulch the grass with dollars thrown into the lawn mower.

No, Gwendolyn, fixing a lawn mower, doesn't mean you've bribed it.

There are several ways to go broke — we prefer first class.

TEEN FORUM

COMPETITOR: (Q.) Meg and I are not like 12 and 13-year-old kids who write you. We are both 17 and we have real trouble. His name is Roger.

Meg and I had been going together a year. Then I went ice skating and found Meg there with Roger. The next day she told me she was sorry and asked me for another chance. I gave it to her.

But the very next weekend we were at a baseball game and I had to leave for a minute. When I came back Meg and Roger were talking to each other. As soon as he left I asked her to decide between him and me. She didn't say she was choosing Roger but she said maybe it would be better for both of us.

Ever since then she has been impossible. She says she doesn't want me to go away, but I am always seeing her with Roger. It's cruel. What can I do? — Tormented in Pennsylvania.

(A.) I feel that each boy or girl who writes me, no matter what age, feels that his or her problem is important. If they didn't feel that way they wouldn't write. Now to your important problem.

Meg has let you know that she wants to date you but she also wants to be free to date someone else. You can accept this or you can reject it.

If you accept, you should not spend your time with Meg fighting with her about other boys she dates or talks to. If I were you I would accept. Meg seems to like you. She just isn't ready to settle on one boy. If you go away she will eventually HAVE to settle on someone besides you.

LASHES: (Q.) I am worried because I am missing some eyelashes on my lower lid. I had the measles and had an eruption on one lid. The lashes in that spot came out and have never grown back. How can I keep it from looking so plan and bare?—15 in Florida.

(A.) Try a very thin line of liquid liner immediately below your lower lashes. Use a very small brush and choose a subtle color. Thinly outline the upper lids as well.

When you learn to get it just right, the effect will be quite attractive, and will minimize any gap or gaps in your lashes. Some Notes on TV Stars

HOLLYWOOD (UPI) — called presence, and you can't learn it or buy it.

Bobby Darin: His series didn't do well in the ratings, but his all-around talents were spectacular and his showmanship was nothing short of dazzling. And he will get better and better because he seems to have found his groove.

David Carradine, of "Kung Fu": A new breed heavy-weight. Looks like a good man to be on the road with.

Peter Falk, of "Columbo": A million dollar face. A million dollar attitude. Looks like a good man to be in a bar with.

Howard Cosell: If I can't find an Erich Von Stroheim movie on television, I figure a program with Cosell will give me the same kind of pleasure.

Bea Arthur, of "Maude": She plays a formidable woman, but it is her vulnerability that gives much of the basic strength to her role. And why doesn't someone find a property that she and Cosell could do together?

Randolph Scott: Although he's a video presence only in the sense that his old movies are rerun endlessly, he's still just about the handsomest man on the home screen.

Buddy Ebsen, of "Barnaby Rudge": If you need an actor to glide through the weak spots of a play, a movie or a television show, and make things seem much better than they are, one of the best people you could call would be Buddy Ebsen.

I get the impression that most parents would feel, deep down inside, that they had done their job well if only their son dressed the way Connors dresses in his series.

Power Shortage Hinders Skylab Tasks

HOUSTON (UPI) — Another cut in Skylab's critically short power supply forced space pilots to cancel renewed studies today of the earth's resources. The Skylab 1 astronauts were told they may be asked to push a television camera through an airlock under their station within the next two days so engineers on the ground can see what can be done to open the wing.

Charles "Pete" Conrad, Joseph P. Kerwin and Paul J. Weitz cut back on their scientific tasks planned for today. A new schedule was drawn up concentrating on medical experiments and work in the huge solar observatory mounted piggy back on the orbiting laboratory.

Just before their new troubles struck, the astronauts completed man's first orbital survey of the earth's resources—a 17,114-mile an hour pass that gathered information in the United States from Utah to the Texas Gulf Coast and continued across Mexico, Brazil and Colombia.

Controllers said the instruments worked well with the exception of one camera that failed. They gathered data about such subjects as insect infestation, soil salinity, crop growth and the efficiency of land use.

But to aim the station's cameras earthward, the craft had to be tipped nose-down so its solar panels no longer faced the sun and could not produce electricity. Skylab carries batteries to take over in such situations, but the battery system partially failed.

One of the craft's 18 battery circuits failed in a way that blocked the flow of even solar cell generated power through it, the second such failure in Skylab. Four other batteries were knocked out temporarily, and had to be restored to the system by remote control from the ground. In all, the space station was without one third of its power for a little more than an hour.

The earth resources experiment would not be completely canceled despite the power shortage. But they said future runs might have to be shortened.

The mission commander told mission control he still favored an unprecedented spacewalk to try and free the solar panel that was damaged during Skylab's launch May 14.

Conrad earlier had suggested he go out of the station's hatch, crawl hand-over-hand along the disabled solar wing and use a crowbar to remove debris from a destroyed thermal shield that is holding the wing. He asked if this proposal was still being considered.

Backup Skylab commander Russell Schweickart was at the Marshall Space Flight Center in Huntsville, Ala., today to work on the spacewalk procedure. Hutchinson said Schweickart's tests in a water tank that

Medicare Expenses Will Increase

WASHINGTON (AP) — Out-of-pocket medical expenses for 22.5 million elderly and disabled Americans receiving Medicare will increase $360 million a year beginning Friday.

Monthly Part B premiums for coverage of doctor bills and a wide range of other medical services will increase 50 cents to $6.30 per recipient, while the annual deductible before Medicare benefits are paid will increase by $10, to $60. The Nixon administration proposal to add another $700 million a year to Medicare recipients' medical and hospital bills has met stiff resistance in Congress, however.

Legislation designed to put the proposed increases into effect Jan. 1, 1974, reportedly still is bottled up in the Office of Management and Budget.

More than half the Senate has signed a statement opposing the plan, and Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, has vowed it will never pass.

Under Social Security Act amendments passed last year, about 1.7 million disabled persons under 65 and an estimated 10,000 to 15,000 persons suffering from chronic kidney disease will be covered by Medicare for the first time starting Friday.

Two Leaders Urge Wage-Price Return

WASHINGTON (UPI) — Two influential leaders in Congress are urging President Nixon to go back to wage-price controls to curb inflation.

Senate Democratic Leader Mike Mansfield, dismissing the relaxed and "self-enforcing" controls of Phase III as a "total, colossal failure," called on Nixon in a Senate speech, Wednesday to restore the more rigid controls of Phase II.

But Rep. Wilbur D. Mills, D-Ark., chairman of the House Ways and Means Committee, wants Nixon to go further and freeze wages and prices at their present levels.

If a freeze was justified on Aug. 15, 1971, when Nixon first acted, it is even more justified now, Mills told the House.

At the same time, he sought to reassure world leaders that Watergate has not immobilized the government on economic and trade matters and to assure American businessmen that he already has rejected some tax reform proposals which business consider damaging.

Mansfield and Mills spoke against a backdrop of administration-inspired speculation that the administration may propose a general tax increase to slow down the overheated economy and a five cent per gallon gasoline tax increase, also for that purpose and to discourage the consumption of gas.

Treasury Secretary George P. Shultz conceded Tuesday that the gas tax increase was under consideration and did not discourage speculation that a general tax increase was also under study—although he indicated his own personal distaste for an increase.

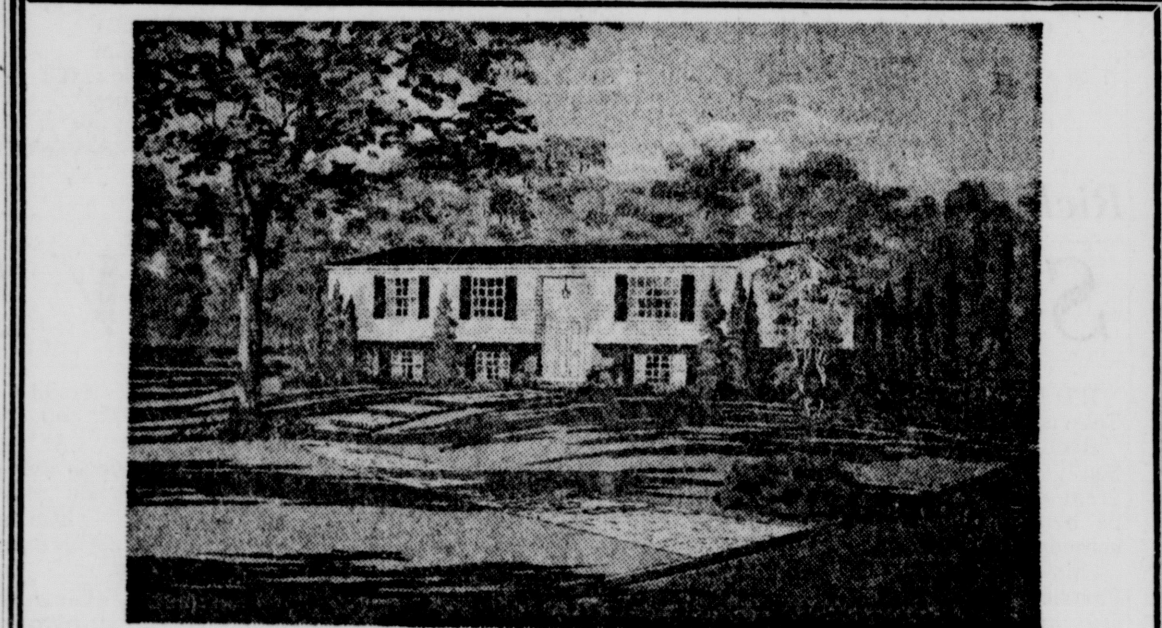

Cautious optimism was expressed by J. Dewey Daane, a governor of the Federal Reserve System, in testimony before a Senate subcommittee on another vital economic matter—the U.S. balance of payments deficit.

The deterioration which has caused two devaluations in 14 months has been reversed, Daane reported, and the United States since mid-March has enjoyed a surplus in international transactions. These involve trade, foreign investments, foreign aid, dollars spent on tourism and other flows of dollars.

During the first three months of the year this country ran up a near record $10.2 billion transactions deficit, but the surplus started to show up shortly after the February devaluation.

In sharp contrast, Pierre Rinfret, a private economic consultant who sometimes advises President Nixon, portrayed a bleak picture. He said he could foresee one, two or even three more devaluations of the dollar and called for an $8 billion tax increase on all families earning over $7,500 a year as one remedy to inflation.

The increase will hold for two years, HEW said, unless Congress boosts benefits in the interim. Previous premium increases were 20 cents in 1972, 30 cents in 1971, $1.30 and $1 in 1968.
